Pledge as targets are missed on A&E unit

HEALTH chiefs in Staffordshire have missed Government targets for not seeing patients quick enough in A&E.

The department at Stafford Hospital – now renamed The County Hospital – is no longer open at night but new figures show that only 84 per cent of patients are being seen within four hours – the government target is 95 per cent.

Bosses have blamed rising numbers of admissions but say they are determined to reduce waiting times.

Figures show a total of 11,446 patients visited A&E in Stafford between July and September.

Stafford Borough Council leader Mike Heenan said: "These figures are very concerning but I certainly welcome the fact that the new management are looking at them and taking them very seriously."

Magnus Harrison, clinical director of emergency medicine at University Hospitals of North Midlands, said: "The needs of our patients both at Royal Stoke University Hospital and County Hospital are at the forefront of everything we do."

"Despite these pressures, people can be confident that the Emergency Centre continues to offer a high quality and safe service."

Brave dog is up for award

A GREYHOUND attacked by an adder is being entered into a competition to find the country's bravest pet survivor.

Cookie, owned by Lynn Pallatina, of Hednesford, was saved by PDSA vets after a snake bit her face during a walk on Cannock Chase.

She has now been nominated for PDSA Pet Survivor 2014 and could win an engraved trophy.

The public can vote, before November 22 at www.pdsa.org.uk/petsurvivor.

Sports complex planned at site of former club

An artist's impression of the pavilion

A MINI-sports complex featuring a brand new pavilion and pitches is set to be built in Hednesford.

The scheme is planned for the site of the former West Cannock Sports and Social Centre, off Bradbury Lane.

Under the proposals, a full sized artificial sports pitch and smaller grass pitch will also be created.

A new, single storey sports pavilion is also planned.

The West Cannock Sports and Social Centre closed in 2008. Since then the site has been vacant and the buildings vandalised. The old pavilion has been demolished and the social club is in a state of disrepair.

Planning bosses at Cannock Chase Council were recommended to give the scheme the thumbs-up at meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

Hednesford Town Council says it is 'extremely pleased' to see the site being brought back into use.

Only one neighbour objected, on the grounds of light and noise pollution.

The plans have been submitted by Cannock Chase District Council. If it goes ahead, the current building at the site will be knocked down. Floodlights will be installed on the larger pitch, along with security fencing and a car park.

Sport England is backing the proposals. It is the second sports and leisure complex planned in the area after proposals were submitted to develop on the former Cannock Stadium site.

Cannock Chase Council wants to create football pitches, allotments, an outdoor gym and community centre at the Pye Green Road site and create a new sports complex. Work could start in April.

Bigamist given a suspended sentence

A BIGAMIST pretended he was divorced from his first wife so he could marry again, a court was told.

Arjinder Singh of Cannock 'wed' Fiona Watkins despite never having finalised his divorce, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Singh, aged 42, of Skylark Close, divorced Gurpreet Kaur in 2008. They remarried in 2011 but split up again and no second divorce procedure was carried out.

Mr Neil Ahuja, prosecuting, said Singh and Miss Watkins went through a ceremony at Moddershall Oaks, near Stafford on July 25 this year and the unlawful 'marriage' was recorded at Stafford Register Office.

Singh said he had signed over the marital home to his estranged wife on the understanding she would divorce him. He and Miss Watkins had been together for about 18 months and although no divorce papers came through, he continued with the wedding plans.

Singh admitted bigamy and was given a four-month sentence suspended for two years. He must do 133 hours unpaid community work and pay £380 costs and surcharge.

Mr Stephen Rudge, defending, said if Singh went to jail his partner will almost suffer twice.

Annual run to honour fallen

THREE Rugeley club members will commemorate the fallen by taking part in the annual Armistice Day remembrance run next week.

Charles Jarman, aged 73, will be joined by Kevin and Tracy Ball, of Rugeley Runners, for the half marathon in Ploegsteert, Belgium on Tuesday. It attracted around 1,600 people last year.

Mr Jarman said: "I thought it would be nice to commemorate with it being the 100th anniversary of the First World War."

TRIBUTES AFTER BLAZE DEATHS

POLICE say the investigation into a fireworks factory blaze that left two Hednesford men dead would take a 'considerable time'.

Tributes have been paid to the two men killed in the tragedy at SP Fireworks in Tilcon Avenue. Customer Stewart Staples was inside when the fire broke out, Simon Hillier worked there. Police discovered the bodies of both men in the aftermath of last Thursday's inferno.

By Craig Hughes

The family of Mr Staples, aged 57 and a worker at Staffordshire County Council, said he was a devoted family man with a wife, three children and a young grandson.

In a statement they said: "We as a family are totally shocked and devastated. We need to come to terms with the tragic loss of someone who was a devoted and much loved family man."

Council leader Philip Atkins also paid tribute to Mr Staples.

He said: "We're incredibly shocked and saddened to hear of the tragic death of Stewart Staples."

Gentleman

"Stewart worked in our highways department for 26 years, and both as a professional and a person was one of the most respected, trusted and well-liked members of our staff, and a true gentleman."

"His friends and colleagues here at the county council will miss him terribly."

Mr Staples, of Bond Way, was a lifelong Walsall FC fan and the club also paid tribute. As a mark of respect, an obituary will appear in Saturday's match day programme and Mr Staples' family have been invited to the fixture as guests of the club.

Mr Hillier, 41, of Mountside Street, was described as a 'fantastic son and brother and a terrific dad' by his close relatives.

He retired as a kickboxer some years ago but continued to help train youngsters at Featherstone Kickboxing Club.

A family statement said: "We are all very proud of his sporting achievements and in everything else he did in life. He was a fantastic son and brother and a terrific dad, we all miss him dearly."

A 53-year-old man was arrested. Supt Ian Coxhead, of Staffordshire Police, said: "Our work to establish the cause of the fire is going to take considerable time."

Customers who purchased fireworks from the company are being urged not to use them.

Supt Coxhead added: "Anyone who has purchased fireworks from SP Fireworks is asked to contact Staffordshire Police on 01785 232656 and quote incident number 552 of October 30."

"Details of the fireworks will be taken and advice provided on their storage," he added.

Players to wear poppies with pride

PLAYERS and representatives of Staffordshire's largest football club will remember the fallen in an innovative way this weekend.

Wyrley Juniors FC, which has 47 teams, has been donated stick-on poppies, which will be worn with pride by players for a minute's silence and the game that follows over the Remembrance Sunday weekend.

Last year, the under-12s Lions had the stickers produced. This year, some 700 poppies have been donated by Bri-Stor Systems Limited, which designs, manufactures and fits vehicles with racking from its 30 acre site in Hixon, Stafford. One of its employees, Lee France, is manager of the club's under-7s Tigers side.

The poppies are being sold by the club at £1 each and the proceeds will be shared between Cheslyn Hay, Great Wyrley and Essington branches of the Royal British Legion.

Wyrley Juniors chairman Keith Hardy said: "This is a means of enabling players to continue showing their respect for those who have lost their lives."

He said to date nearly 600 poppy stickers had been sold and the club had hoped to raise more than £750 for the worthwhile cause.

Extra parking planned after hospital takeover

SEVENTY more parking spaces are being planned at Cannock Hospital to cope with an influx of new patients from Wolverhampton.

The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust has now officially taken over the running of the Brunswick Road site and all of the city's New Cross Hospital non-emergency surgery is being moved there.

The hospital will cater for more than 20,000 outpatient cases and 10,000 inpatient cases from New Cross.

Shuttle buses will transfer patients and staff between the two sites but health chiefs have now revealed plans to create dozens of extra parking spaces.

There are currently 396 spaces for the hospital, of which 303 are for staff, 69 for visitors and 24 for blue badge holders.

Cannock Chase Council and NHS bosses have been discussing ways to stop surrounding roads becoming clogged and talks have been taking place over the possibility of the hospital sharing the car park at the rear of the council offices in Beecroft Road.

Keen

The council car park has around 190 spaces.

Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust chief executive David Loughton said he was keen to have more parking for visitors and patients nearer to the hospital and extra parking spaces would be created.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson added: "We are looking at an arrangement. We will be looking at joint usage with the hospital."

Gwen Nuttall, chief operating officer for Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals NHS Trust, said: "We are aware that car parking at Cannock can be difficult and we are looking to improve the layout and increase the numbers of patients and staff."

Scenes of Chase in frame

Photographer Natalie Willis whose pictures are on display at Cannock Library

THE scenery and seasons of Cannock Chase have been captured for a photographic exhibition.

Natalie Willis of Bridgtown has used her camera to take hundreds of snaps of the beauty spot. Some now form the display at Cannock Library.

The mother-of-three has been taking photographs for around five years after being inspired by the surroundings while dog walking.

She is now showcasing 14 of her images at the Manor Avenue site throughout November.

Among the shots are of the sunset, dusk and one where the trees appear to look like a lady holding a child in Shoal Hill.

There are also pictures of Heath Hayes taken in all four seasons.

Although the bulk of her photos are around Cannock she has also taken some shots of Brownhills Common in the snow. The 40 year-old of Union Street, said: "Walking outside with a dog walking business I got to appreciate the outdoors and the beauty of it."

"I have always had an interest in photography. I just point and shoot and have learned as I go along."

"It is just a case of being out at the right time. It is my first exhibition and I want to see what feedback I get and maybe take it further."

Views

Natalie said Cannock Chase was an ideal area to get the best views, with the best times being either early morning or later on the evening.

"You are surrounded by wildlife, you will always see something different. I do manage to capture some unusual scenes."

Cigarette littering leads to men fined

MAGISTRATES have penalised two men caught lighting up and littering in a smoke-free place.

Gareth Haywood, aged 30, of Chasewater Way, Norton Canes, was seen smoking in a vehicle used for business purposes and was also witnessed subsequently littering the cigarette end.

He was issued with fixed penalty notices but failed to pay and was prosecuted. He failed to attend court and did not enter a plea and was fined £200 for each offence with costs of £280 and a £20 victim surcharge.

Surcharge

Stephen Woods, 47, of Hannaford Way, Cannock, was witnessed littering a cigarette end on February 26 by two environmental enforcement assistants. He pleaded guilty by post and was fined £35 and ordered to pay costs of £250, with a £20 victim surcharge.

Environment leader Councillor Carl Bennett said: "Enforcement assistants issue fixed penalty notices to anyone littering, allowing their dogs to foul or smoking in a smoke-free place."

"Payment of a fixed penalty notice discharges liability and the council will always seek to prosecute in the event of non-payment."

Police name M-way victim

A MAN who died on the M6 after being struck by several vehicles has been named as Alan John Bird, aged 41, of Wheatcroft Close, Penkridge.

He was pronounced dead at the scene after being hit on the southbound carriageway between junction 13 for Stafford and junction 12 for Gailey on Monday, October 27 at 7.20pm.

Police are appealing for witnesses and anyone who saw Mr Bird prior to his death. The motorway remained closed for four hours causing tailbacks of eight miles.

10-mile ramble

THE Chase & District Ramblers undertake a moderate 10-mile walk at Marston Montgomery near Rugeley this weekend. Departure time for Sunday's walk is 9am from Hednesford rail station car park.

Students take reins for equine course

Equine apprentices with John Renshaw at Rodbaston

A COLLEGE has welcomed its first intake of equine apprentices.

The students are undertaking their Level 2 Horse Care and Riding apprenticeships at South Staffordshire College's equestrian centre at the Rodbaston Campus, near Penkridge.

They will spend one day a week at the college and the rest of their working week at their placements.

They will also receive a monthly workplace visit and be assessed on practical elements of the modules they are studying. The students will learn how to take care of horses, from feeding and grooming, mucking out and exercising through to general husbandry. They will also get some hands-on experiences.

John Renshaw, apprenticeship manager at the college, added: "This is a great opportunity and has been met by local employers with great enthusiasm as a local college helping to meet their business needs."

Apprentice Gabby Madders added:

"The course is good as I am learning, working and getting a great qualification. It is perfect for me."

Once the students complete their Level 2 apprenticeship, the levels of responsibility in their employment will increase and they can progress onto a Level 3 apprenticeship in equine, or undertake an extended diploma in horse management.

The equine centre has a 196ft by 98ft indoor arena, covered outdoor arena and an uncovered outdoor arena.

Dog groomer turns pet pooch into Tiger Millie

A PET owner is turning heads in her local town after painting her dog to look like a tiger.

Jackie Simmonds of Burntwood spent two-and-a-half hours turning little cavachon Millie into the jungle beast using a special dye for pets.

The 44-year-old dig groomer then unveiled her wacky creation to the shock of her husband Ian, 47, and her three children Stephen, 29, Elliott, 16, and Molly, 14.

Jackie said her family didn't quite know what to make about the family pet's new look.

But since painting the pooch over Jackie says she is proving a hit whenever she takes her walks to the local shopping centre.

She said: "I thought I'd try and get into creative grooming and give the family a surprise - who doesn't like tigers?"

"My husband looked at me like I was mad and the kids were a bit embarrassed but once they've all seen the reaction she's getting I think they have changed their tune."

"I spent about two and a half hours in total using special dye that you can buy from groomers online for about £7.50.

Trend

"It's a trend that's big in the USA and Asia but I think it will finally take off in Britain soon as well."

"I can't say she's very ferocious looking though she's as soft as anything. She looks like a baby Tiger from Winnie the Pooh."

"When we went up town everybody wanted selfies, from shop owners to the tattoo parlour guys."

"I spent about two hours in town when I only wanted to pop out for a bit."

"People were beeping their horns and everybody is saying how cute she looks. The response has been amazing."

"Millie loves the attention and I've had lots of comments regarding her new look," added Jackie.

"I know it is a very controversial subject and there have been a few people ask me how could I do it and say that it is cruel, which is only to be expected."

By Katy-Rose Meaney

However Jackie, of Spencer Drive, Chase Terrace, who runs Chase Dog Grooming and has three dogs of her own, insists the styling is harmless and the products used are specifically for animals.

She said: "The products used are only temporary, some last a few days and some will last for up to eight weeks, depending on the customer preference and products used."

"That said, all of the products used are completely safe and are specifically designed for pet use."

The groomer said she would only create designs on dogs which are happy to be groomed.

"You have to know your dog to decide if he or she would appreciate this sort of grooming," said Jackie.

"Millie and my poodle Ava don't mind being groomed at all, whereby my springer spaniel Daisy would be horrified at the very thought and even when she's in for a bath and clip she shakes all the way through."

The artistic designs are only a sideline for the full time dog groomer but she said it is just a bit of fun.

Millie's makeover is not the first time the dog groomer has given her dogs an extreme makeover. Ava the poodle was last year dyed pink to look like My Little Pony, complete with purple hooves.

For more information on the service call Jackie on 07795 464228.

Software company jobs hope after cash

A CANNOCK IT software company is hoping to expand and create more jobs after a funding boost.

Premier Software Solutions has received maximum grant funding through the Business Development Programme.

The £8m business support scheme is part-funded by the European Regional Development Fund and aims to help more than 400 small and medium enterprises across the Greater Birmingham and Solihull Local Enterprise Partnership.

Premier Software Solutions supplies spas, fitness clubs and salons across the country with tailor-made software packages to manage their business.

Managing director Mark Johnson said: "The grant has proved invaluable, enabling us to have larger premises, thus creating more opportunities for our expansion plans."

So far, 16 Cannock Chase companies have received funding from the Business Development Programme.

Economic development and planning leader Councillor Gordon Alcott said: "Helping businesses in the district to grow and to create more jobs is good for the district as a whole."

Friends await visit of Pope

THE Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase welcome Michael Pope to their next meeting.

His firm is one of a very few in the whole country which restores historic buildings. His talk will include the art of masonry and woodwork as well as describing some of the buildings they have restored.

The talk is at the Museum of Cannock Chase, Valley Road, Hednesford, on Wednesday November 12 at 7.30pm. Non-members are welcome and admission is free. Coffee and tea with biscuits will follow.

Food and crafts

A FINE food and crafts market is being held at Penkridge Market next weekend. It will be held on Saturday, November 15 between 9am and 4pm.

Another will follow on December 20. See www.penkridgemarket.co.uk for more details.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

IF HS2 goes from London to Birmingham and HS3 from Leeds to Manchester, what next? A reader suggests HS4 to whisk MPs from the Commons to their free bars, and HS5 to take "out-of-touch politicians and greedy bankers" out of London and straight over the 500 ft cliff at Beachy Head.

NATIONAL Grid, facing a shortage of electricity, has warned it may have to reduce voltage, leading to "brown-outs" of dimmed bulbs this winter. In this age of dismal, low-energy bulbs, will anyone notice? Remember when a single 100 watt bulb filled your room with glorious light? Own up. How many of us are still sitting on stockpiles of wicked old, planet-killing 100-watters? By their bright homes shall ye know them.

ON the Guardian website, of all places, someone emails: "Why should any man support a feminist movement?" He's commenting on David Cameron's refusal to wear a T-shirt with the logo: "This is what a feminist looks like." You can see the emailer's point. Feminism is about promoting the rights of women, which presumably could diminish the rights of us males. If working-class people who vote Tory are denounced as class traitors, isn't a man who supports feminism a gender-traitor?

IF you thought the commercialisation of law had gone far enough with driver-awareness courses, consider a recent case in Wolverhampton where eight men have been ordered to attend a "kerb crawlers" rehabilitation course." Both hands on the dashboard, Mr Jones.

A NEW super-computer means the Met Office will be able to give us 100 per cent accurate weather forecasts. And where's the fun in that?

TINY victory for common sense. Stephen Gough, the so-called "Naked Rambler," has lost his case at the European Court of Human Rights. The court ruled that the law "does not go so far as to enable individuals, even those sincerely convinced of the virtue of their own beliefs, to repeatedly impose their anti-social conduct on other, unwilling members of society." In other words, there is no human right to behave like a total prat.

I SHOULD have known that mentioning the Mamod steam engine would trigger all sorts of dangerous yearnings among blokes of a certain age. One reader confesses he drank the methylated spirits that came with his Mamod, just to see what it was like. Another fondly recalls his first chemistry set which not only contained the ingredients for gunpowder but gave you the proper names for the chemicals, so you could order much bigger quantities at your chemists. There was a time in the 1950-60s when a fair proportion of little British boys were not only in possession of bomb-making equipment but at the end of their heads on meths. Mind you, we didn't have a Terrorism Act then.

INCIDENTALLY, Mamod, founded in 1936 is still in business, chugging away at a factory in Smethwick. <http://www.mamod.co.uk/>

WELL done, Miranda Hart, for honouring one of the oldest rules of showbiz: always leave 'em wanting more. After three series, she has decided to make no more episodes of Miranda. She is following the example of Fawlty Towers, which had only 12 episodes. And she's avoiding the grisly mistake of Last of the Summer Wine which dragged mercilessly on, like an incurable boil, for 31 series. It lasted from 1973 until 2010 relying on one single gag, namely old blokes doing daft things in a Yorkshire accent. Ee bah gum, it did go on.

Dance night to raise memorial funds

A FIRST World War themed dance night will be held this weekend to raise money for a monument in memory of fallen members of the Staffordshire Regiment.

The Stafford's mascot, Staffordshire Bull Terrier Watchman V and his handler Greg Hedges will be guests of honour at the event in Rugeley on Saturday night (November 8).

The evening, at Lea Hall Social

Club, in Sandy Lane, has been organised by the Rugeley branch of the Staffordshire Regimental Association to commemorate the 100th anniversary since the outbreak of the First World War.

Branch chairman Mick Savic said the association was trying to raise £30,000 to replace the regimental memorial at the National Memorial Arboretum at Alrewas, near Lichfield.

"The present memorial was built 10 or 12 years ago, and it is little more than a pile of bricks with a plaque on it," he said.

"It's very much outdated, and we want to replace it with something much better."

He said the association had already raised £28,600 towards the cost of the monument, and hoped that the night itself would raise £750.

The event, which has been organised in partnership with the club, Rugeley traders and the Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society, starts at 7.30pm.

The Prestige Swing Band will perform old-time music, while there will also be a disco.

People are encouraged to wear First World War costume.

Tickets priced £10 are available on 01889 583175.

New £8m national centre for Finning

AN industrial equipment firm in Cannock has opened a new £8million national distribution centre.

Finning, whose head office is on Watling Street, Cannock, has unveiled its state-of-the-art warehouse facility at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park.

It houses all of the firm's engines, as well as 60,000 different product lines.

Finning's UK and Ireland managing director Neil Dickinson: "With more than 800 service engineers in the field, it is vital that we have the best logistics in place to help them support our customers."

"Rapid growth over the last few years means that we had almost reached capacity with our existing warehouse facilities."

"When you consider our ambitious growth plans over the next few years, it became very clear that we needed to invest in our logistics in order to maintain and further improve the levels of service that our customers have come to expect from us."

Parts operations manager Steve Smith said: "This significant investment not only meets the needs of today, but also factors in plenty of capacity for our future growth plans."

Couriers are pretty in pink

PARCEL firm staff were pretty in pink as they raised money for Breast Cancer Care. Employees at APC Overnight's Cannock headquarters, at Kingswood Lakeside, took part in the Wear It Pink event and raised around £250.

Staff even donated pink sweets which were sold on a pop-up pink stall, and a sweepstake was held to boost funds further.

Head of HR Emma Scott said: "The Wear It Pink event gave us an excellent opportunity to have a lot of fun and to raise funds for a very worthy cause."

Donate blood

DONORS are urged to roll up their sleeves in Burntwood next week. NHS Blood and Transplant will be at the Memorial Institute in Rugeley Road, on Friday, November 14. To book, between 1.30 and 3.30pm, or from 4.30 to 7.30pm, call 0300 123 23 23.

A SPORTS club celebrating its 40th anniversary this year is looking to the swell the ranks.

Cheslyn Hay Table Tennis Club is looking for new recruits, both young and old, and staged an open day last weekend to get people involved in the sport.

The club was founded in 1974 and games were then played at the Working Men's Club in High Street, Cheslyn Hay. It has since moved to the Salem Church in High Street.

Club secretary John Quinn, one of the founding members, said: "When we first started out there were only about 12 players."

"We had one room with one table at the working men's club. The club then moved to the Salem Church in 1991. The room was full of junk. We had to clear it all out and redecorate it. Now we've got five tables and 27 members."

The club plays its games in the Walsall and Wolverhampton table tennis leagues on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Sponsor

The oldest playing member is Mike Hudson, aged 78 and the youngest is Sam Tomkinson, 12. Meanwhile Ted Spriggs, 87, who is an honorary member of the club, played up to the age of 82.

Mr Quinn said the club was always looking for new players to join.

"We're also keen on attracting a new sponsor. That way we can develop the club and get even bigger," he said.

"We've got a great social calendar as well and we often raise money for charities by putting on events. We've raised £18,500 over the years. We're a family club and everyone is made to feel welcome."

"We're proud to get to 40 years and we hope to make it to another 40 years by attracting new, young players."

For more details or anyone interested in sponsoring the club, call Mr Quinn on 07846 496715.

New-look Kwik Fit opens up to public

THE chairman of Cannock Chase Council cut the ribbon to open a refurbished Kwik Fit in Cannock.

Councillor Alan Pearson declared the Rumer Hill Road centre open following its facelift.

Cannock is home to one of more than 600 Kwik Fits nationwide and was chosen for the significant investment because of the commitment shown by the staff in serving its community.

The facelift includes a redesigned reception area and the introduction of specialist laser wheel alignment equipment.

Councillor Pearson said: "The investment that the new owners of Kwik Fit have poured into the local centre is very good news."

"It's commendable that there's an apprenticeship scheme in place to give unemployed young people some valuable career skills."

Manager Aiden Catterson said: "It's given the staff a real boost that our hard work has been recognised, and that our centre has been given major investment."

"All the team take great pride in our work and now we have a working environment that matches our ambition to deliver the best possible service."

Club stalwart to sail away with award

John Allsopp - honour

A CHASEWATER sailor is to receive one of the Royal Yachting Association's most prestigious awards from its president HRH The Princess Royal.

The Chase Sailing Club's John Allsopp, from Streetly near Sutton Coldfield, will be honoured with an RYA Lifetime Commitment Award at the national governing body's annual awards ceremony in London on Friday, November 21. It will recognise his huge contribution to the sport.

Now 88, John has been an instrumental figure at Chase for more than 50 years. A dedicated racer for many years, John has also helped to encourage young sailors at Chase Sailing Club, including playing an integral role in establishing Youth Sailing @ Chase.

On retirement John became the main organiser for Chase's weekly 'Wrinklies Club', which takes on club maintenance jobs and provides a constructive outlet for older members.

John was nominated by the RYA West Midlands region and selected as a winner by the RYA Awards panel. He will enjoy a celebratory lunch in the presence of HRH The Princess Royal, and be presented with a commemorative medallion and certificate.

He said: "It was a surprise to get the letter from the RYA. We've fought and won a lot of battles over the years to make sure young sailors and their families got the best deal possible to keep them sailing at Chase.

"The youth sailors are the soul of any club and it's a super set up at Chase."

He also praised the Wrinklies for giving up their time to help build up membership.

As well as serving on The Chase SC's club committee for many years, John was also the RYA West Midlands regional treasurer throughout the 70s and 80s.

Mike Kelly, former RYA West Midlands Chair, nominated John. He said: "His dedication to both the club and region should not be overlooked."

Fraudster loses appeal against prison sentence

A CROOKED financial adviser who conned £478,000 from his victims has lost an appeal against his prison sentence, with a judge saying it was 'richly deserved'.

Mark Lewis, of Oakdene Close, Hednesford, promised huge returns on investments in property and solar panels, but left victims empty-handed.

Fraudster Mark Lewis

In total, £413,000 was lost in the property fraud and £65,000 in the solar panel scam.

In May, the 51-year-old was jailed for six years and five months at Stafford Crown Court after admitting 16 counts of fraud.

His victims, many of them retired, were from across the West Midlands, including Cheslyn Hay. They lost life savings, pension pots and money put aside for grandchildren's education.

Lewis appealed on the basis that his sentence was 'simply too long', but two senior judges dismissed his case, saying his sentence was richly deserved.

Renovated

At the Court of Appeal in London, Mr Justice Spencer said: "We think the original sentence was just and proportionate and not manifestly excessive."

The court heard Lewis invited family and friends, and those recommended to him, to invest large sums in properties to be renovated and sold.

For a while, he delivered the returns he promised, but as a result of the downturn in the housing market in 2008, that ended.

As investors insisted their money be repaid, he set up a schedule to give it back through his salary. But it never happened and he went on to commit frauds in connection with solar panels.

Santas to cut a dash in fundraiser

Newlife Foundation is calling for people to dress up like Father Christmas for the one-mile dash through the town centre on December 13.

The charity, based at Hemlock Way, helps disabled children and the popular event is now in its fifth year.

Participants can run, walk or jog the route between Chase Leisure Centre in Stafford Road to the Bank Bar and Lounge, in Wolverhampton Road. The dash starts at 11am.

Newlife fundraising manager Nora Smith said: "Last year we had an amazing turnout and this December we would like to make it bigger and better than ever."

"It's a great opportunity for individuals as well as families, work colleagues or students to get together for a bit of festive fun."

It costs £5 to enter and participants will be provided with their Santa costume. Children under 16 can go along for free. They will receive a free Santa hat but a small donation would be gratefully received.

The proceeds from last year's event helped four Staffordshire children by providing specialist walkers for three youngsters and a standing frame for a fourth.

To register for the event visit www.newlifecharity.co.uk/santadash or call 0800 988 4640.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Search launched for best retailers

PROSPECTIVE Parliamentary Candidate Amanda Milling has launched a search to find the best independent shops and market stalls in Cannock Chase.

Residents can vote for their favourite between now and December 1 at www.bestchaseretailer.co.uk

Tory hopeful Ms Milling will announce the five winners on December 6 as part of Small Business Saturday.

She said: "We have many wonderful and unique independent retailers and market stalls."

Jobs saved with phone shop launch

A NEW Vodafone store has opened in Cannock town centre, replacing the former Phones 4U shop and securing eight jobs.

The shop was unveiled in Market Hall Street. Phones 4U shut in September when the company went into administration.

All eight members of staff from the old Phones 4U store have been taken on to work in the new Vodafone shop.

Vodafone acquired 139 Phones 4U branches on September 22.

Three bailed after drugs discovered

THREE men from Cannock have been arrested on suspicion of drug offences.

The drugs were found when the car they were travelling in was stopped during a routine patrol in Old Hednesford Road, Cannock, at around 4pm on Tuesday, October 28.

The men, aged 21, 26 and 29, were taken into custody for questioning and have since been bailed pending further inquiries.

Club to combine music and flowers

with Mark Andrews

AS part of a campaign by the Fawcett Society, a number of politicians including Ed Miliband, Nick Clegg, and Harriet Harman have been persuaded to wear a T-shirt bearing the words 'This is what a feminist looks like'.

Now a newspaper has claimed that the T-shirts, which are being sold in the trendy clothes shop Whistles, are being made in Indian sweatshops by women workers who are paid the princely sum of 62p an hour.

Personally, I'm always suspicious about these 'raising awareness' campaigns, which usually seem to be more about the people taking part than the causes behind them.

It seems risible that anyone can really change anything just by wearing a T-shirt.

And not being funny ladies, but if you really are serious about wanting to get people to join your cause, telling them they will look like Ed Miliband really does seem a strange way of going about it.

FOR many people, particularly the elderly, Halloween now seems to be a night of terror.

Teenagers who are really old enough to know better use the tradition of Trick or Treat as an excuse to demand money with menaces from some of the most vulnerable members of society.

Yet while this rather unpleasant aspect of Halloween seems to have grown exponentially over the past decade or so, has anybody wondered what has happened to the good old 'penny for the guy'?

Of course, the penny was usually five pence, and I suppose there aren't so many of the ad-hoc bonfire displays around these days for them to burn their guys.

But even so, you might think that some of the schools could involve youngsters in keeping this old tradition alive.

At least seeking a penny for the guy involved a bit of effort and workmanship on the part of the youngsters. These days, it seems a hat from the pound shop and an aerosol can for graffiti is about the limit of their ingenuity.

TALK about man's best friend. Alleged drug producer Edward Henderson found the game was up when he was turned in by his own dog.

Henderson tried to make a run for it when police raided his house in Alabama, and managed to hide in the long grass while officers searched for him.

But Henderson was rumbled when an officer told the suspect's dog, Bo, 'go get him', and the dog ran into the field, searched out his master and stood over him, wagging his tail.

By the way, Henderson lives in a city called Prattville. You don't say.

Wave of smiles for Queen's visit

Cheers and flags flying as thousands turn out to welcome Her Majesty. ROB GOLLEDGE reports CROWDS cheered, Union Flags were held up and hundreds of camera phones burst into life when Her Majesty The Queen made her first visit to Wolverhampton in two decades.

Arriving at the city's railway station by Royal train, she then made the four-mile journey along the A449 Stafford Road in a Range Rover to the i54 business park.

Wearing a stunning Peter Enrie teal dress and coat with matching Rachel Trevor-Morgan hat, Her Majesty also carried one of her trademark Wal-sall-made Launer London handbags for the visit to Jaguar Land Rover's £500 million Engine Manufacturing Centre and International Security Printers.

Animated

Accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh, the 88-year-old monarch was animated and cheery throughout both visits, which lasted nearly an hour apiece, chatting to senior managers, workers and schoolchildren.

At International Security Printers, Her Majesty was talked through the stamp-printing process, even removing one her leather gloves to feel the texture of a felt stamp, before seeing the presses run.

The Queen shared jokes with staff during a tour of the world-leading company, which produces stamps for 180 countries. She came face to face with her printed image and viewed historical stamps from the past 50 years.

The firm printed the stamps for the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge's wedding. She also looked at a forthcoming

At JLR, she toured two parts of the factory, one where engine components are made and the other where they are assembled. She also met schoolchildren from Wednesfield High School, which specialises in engineering, and Brewood Middle School.

told Her Majesty: "Your commitment and your sense of duty are an inspiration."

"We are honoured to have your presence to mark one of the most important days in the company's history. These engines represent British engineering at its best. They have been designed and developed by our own engineers, based in the West Midlands."

IPS presented the Queen with a specially-commissioned, engraved metal plaque depicting the premises and a first class stamp.

After weeks of planning for the whistle-stop tour, IPS manufacturing standards manager Andrew Christie said the day had gone perfectly.

"We had a really fabulous day and it was a true honour to welcome the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh," he said.

"We're so pleased with how it all went. She was extremely interested in what we do here and seemed fascinated by the whole process."

Honour

"It was a privilege and an honour to welcome them to our new premises."

At Jaguar Land Rover, pupils from Brewood Middle School waved Union Flags to greet the Royal party.

She toured two manufacturing floors – one where the components of the super-efficient Ingenium engines are made, and another where they are assembled. The company holds the Royal Warrant as Manufacturers of Motor Vehicles, By Appointment from all three current grantors: HM The Queen, HRH The Duke of Edinburgh and HRH The Prince of Wales.

She officially opened both JLR and ISP and, along with the Duke, signed the visitors' books. A private lunch at Jaguar Land Rover capped off the historic visit.

The last time Her Majesty was in the region was to celebrate her Diamond Jubilee, when she visited RAF Cosford in 2012

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

THERE were laughs and jeers when a Labour MP asked the Prime Minister what he was going to do to tighten up on immigration.

David Cameron kept his tone civil when answering Ian Austin during his weekly question time but insisted on reminding MPs about Labour's own record on that matter. There are, of course, Labour MPs who now acknowledge their party got it wrong on immigration.

Dudley North MP Mr Austin has been holding a series of public meetings and immigration is the topic that gets raised time and time again.

The reason it came to the fore again was because a minister called Nick Boles admitted the government could not control it.

While it was hardly something that would have been signed off by the Number 10 spin team, it was a statement that could have come from the Department of the Blindingly Obvious.

We're in the European Union. And there's the principle of free movement that means people from all its member states can come and go as they please. Our economy's growing, hence the £1.7 billion bill Brussels has slapped us with.

The choice then is to either come out of Europe, re-negotiate the rules on free movement or make Britain a less attractive place to be.

Reforming the benefits system so you can only get out-of-work benefits if you've paid in first by having had a job is a popular idea. So is charging foreign visitors to use the NHS.

Whether either will make a scrap of difference remains to be seen. It is not as though the benefits bill or the NHS's woes are issues that have solely arisen because of immigration.

Two Tory councillors have jumped ship, branding their old party's leadership out of touch. But unlike recent defections elsewhere, they've crossed the floor to Labour rather than run to UKIP.

Cheryl Billingham and Glenis Simms both represent wards in Dudley South, where the incumbent Conservative MP Chris Kelly is standing down. The pair are both up for re-election next May. In the press release sent out by Labour both lay in to their former party's leadership.

Councillor Simms also managed to refer to one of Ed Miliband's key campaign topics, what Labour calls the cost-of-living crisis. And in a particularly withering swipe she says: "As an ordinary working mother I no longer feel at home in David Cameron's Conservative party."

Councillor Simms and Councillor Billingham both seem to be struggling to defend their party's record in government.

None of that makes the task of the Conservatives in holding on to Dudley South any easier. At the moment they don't even have a candidate.

Let us spray for market hall to be brightened

YOUNGSTERS in Rugeley have helped to brighten up their town's indoor market.

The young people got involved in a community art project over the summer months.

It followed a consultation held in June when residents were asked to give their views on Rugeley Indoor Market. One of the major themes was that it needed brightening up.

Cannock Chase Council, which manages the site, joined with WLCT's Community Wellbeing Arts to deliver the project to improve the appearance of the market's exterior.

A professional spray artist worked alongside young people to design art pieces which have been displayed inside the market.

History

A number of workshops were held which involved the young people designing and spraying a wall with artwork which reflects the town.

The artist also transformed the frontages of vacant shop units around the area by spraying artwork on the shutters. The images reflect the history and local area of Rugeley.

Councillor Diane Todd, town centre regeneration leader, said: "This project has been extremely successful and has engaged approximately 100 children and young people in positive activity over the summer months.

"It has been great to see so many young people getting involved in this exciting creative project.

"The artwork has transformed the exterior of the market and has received extremely positive feedback from traders and shoppers."

Lisa Shephard, of WLCT's Community Wellbeing Arts team, said: "We were delighted to get involved in this

Before - the undecorated shutters

After - how the shutters now look

Assistant markets officer Linda Shaw, Councillor Diane Todd and traders Sarah Hodgson and Richard Walker admire the artwork project and support the young people to creatively address an uninspiring space and making it more welcoming.

Marshall Stuart, of Megabytes, chairman of Rugeley Market Traders Committee, said: "This project has made a vast improvement to the area and we have received a number of positive comments for customers. It's nice to see the artwork reflects Rugeley in a positive way."

Rugeley Market Hall is open on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 9am to 4.30pm. It will be open until 6pm on November 28 for the Christmas Light switch-on. A lantern parade takes place through the town on December 5.

Best wishes for future of hospitals

The Chronicle Thursday, November 6, 2014

THE transfer of the management of services of Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust to University Hospital NHS Trust and The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust took place on October 31 and our role as Trust Special Administrators has now come to an end.

We thank everyone for their continued efforts during the TSA process. Recent months have involved intense activity to ensure the smoothest possible transition.

A great many people have contributed to this success. We know from extensive discussions with the leadership teams at Stoke and Wolverhampton that they are committed to providing patients with high quality and sustainable services in every hospital.

We send our good wishes to all for the future.

By George, how well off!

OH yes, how things are improving. I've just had the first £100 over the tax threshold as my own spending money for the week.

How well off, I thought. But fate was to deal a cruel blow. HMRC wanted 20 per cent. Oh well, still got £80 left.

Oops! I forgot the NI at just 12 per cent; a bargain. I put £30 in the car and the Chancellor's till rang again to the tune £17.70, picked up a packet of cigarettes for the week, another £6.40 to George, and when I'd had my two pints a night for five nights I'd weighed in with another £9.

All in all a good week. I'd spent my £100 and given the Government £65.01 of it in tax.

Then I was lucky enough to get a puncture. The repair to which attracted a tax levy of £2.40, and just when I thought things couldn't get any better I had to take the dog to the vet's for some treatment and joy oh joy I handed over another £8.30 VAT.

Ukip trying to run before it can walk

RECENTLY I have been looking at the policies of the various political factions.

One shock I had was the realisation that the Conservatives and Ukip were neck and neck, very similar. Ukip is a new untried party while the Conservatives have a long and proved history.

It struck me that if they joined together it would save a great deal of energy, finance and organisation. Of course the leader of Ukip is rather ego-bloated, keen on power which could be tempered easily depending how big he actually is in reality.

Why waste time and money on sameness when a country and its future are at stake? Though it's just possible that logic and reason are far removed from politics which is rather a pity. It's the name Ukip which is new, nothing else, wanting to run before they can walk.

Fundraising collection

ON behalf of the Burntwood, Cannock and Lichfield branch of the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association I would like to say thank you to staff for their co-operation and all the people who so kindly donated to our fundraising collections held at Morrisons, Rugeley on October 25 and 26.

The total amount raised was £624.71. If anyone is interested in helping GDBA with fundraising please contact Pat on 01543 683937.

Plea on watch

I WAS walking on Cannock Chase on a track near the German Cemetery on November 3 when I came across a ladies' bracelet watch on the ground. From its condition, I think it hadn't been on the ground for very long.

If the lady that has lost the watch reads this letter, please call me on 07711 154282 to identify the watch, and I can arrange for its return.

Thank you.

Pensions decision is wrong

I WAS disgusted to find out that widows of police officers are being forced to make a decision that they should never have to make: remain a widow, or relinquish their police pension.

I know many officers of the law, and sadly, several widows of officers as well. This is an issue which affects the community I know and care about very dearly.

To put it simply these widows are being forced to make a choice for something which occurred completely beyond their control. It is as if they are being punished for their partner's death.

If they choose to move on by marrying someone else, they risk losing much of their financial dependence, and in this stagnant economic climate, this would have a detrimental effect on these widows.

The decision to take pensions from widows if they do decide to move on is both morally and socially wrong.

Well-trained pets that can be trusted

IN response to K Lewis' letter re: dogs on lead on Cannock Chase (Chronicle, October 30). I am afraid that I too may have become abusive if you had told me my dog should have been on his lead, given that the dogs in question did not harm you, or your family.

Dogs are increasingly vilified when in fact the majority are loyal, well-trained pets, who have been well socialised and can be trusted around people.

I would estimate, from my experience of walking dogs on the Chase for 40 years, that there are more people with dogs than without. I have met the occasional one which is aggressive, mainly to other dogs. But, in my opinion, if all dogs had to be kept on leads, there would be an increase in aggression, as they are being denied the opportunity to run free and follow their natural instincts.

Judge Rinder bears a comparison to Grayson

IF you were ever a fan of the late, great, very funny comedian from Nuneaton Larry Grayson, I'm more than pleased to tell you all that a continuing ITV show is shortly about to start.

Judge Robert Rinder is so like him; voice mannerisms, you can't help but relate him to Larry Grayson.

Last time the show was on 1.3 million viewers turned in. It's a show following in the steps of the American Judge Judy who has now retired.

I caught the show by chance and now a fan of Judge Rinder.

Witness appeal after assault in town bar

A MAN was left needing surgery after going to the aid of his girlfriend who was being attacked in a Cannock bar. Troubled flared in Bar 77, High Green at 11.35pm on Friday, October 24 after a couple became involved in an argument with a woman, who was with a group of men. The woman, aged 22, was assaulted, suffering facial injuries and when her 28-year-old partner went to help, he was then set upon. He suffered serious facial injuries which required hospital treatment and surgery. Witnesses are asked to call 101 quoting incident 857 of Friday, October 24 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Hopes over jobs boost as company to relocate

A LEADING global company is hoping to create more jobs as it expands and relocates from its sales and distribution centre.

HellermannTyton is moving to Kingswood Lakeside in Cannock from Wharf Approach in Aldridge. The firm, a leading suppliers of products for fastening, fixing, identifying and protecting cables and their connecting components, hopes the move will boost the local economy.

Artist's impressions show how the building would look and if the plans are given the go-ahead work could start early in the new year.

It has been designed by Coltham Developments and includes a 66,000 sq ft distribution facility and 7,700 sq ft of office space.

Growth

It follows more than two years of discussions with the company, which has numerous clients in the automotive, defence and electrical sector.

The company said the plans would safeguard jobs, support business growth and could see the creation of new roles in the future.

Jon Churchley, commercial manager at HellermannTyton, said: "We are delighted to be joining Coltham in this distribution centre development, we believe it will further enhance our ability to service our customer base with products and solutions across our portfolio of products and services."

An artist's impression of the HellermannTyton unit at Kingswood Lakeside

Stuart Franks, of Coltham Developments, said: "We are delighted to have secured HellermannTyton at Kingswood Lakeside after over two years of discussions with the company and their consultants."

"We believe the new facility will look fantastic, occupying an extremely prominent position on the business park and will allow HellermannTyton the additional floorspace to continue the growth of their business."

"The planning application for the new development was submitted last week and subject to a positive decision, we hope to commence construction early in the new year."

Cannock Chase Council's economic development and planning chief, Councillor Gordon Alcott said: "I welcome HellermannTyton's proposal to relocate their business into the Cannock Chase district. The relocation will be another major boost for the area, bringing in more job opportunities for local people."

The international firm has more than 3,000 employees working on the development of product innovations in cable management.

It operates in 34 countries across five continents. The origins of the company date back to the 1930s.

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

'Virtual' meeting with police chief

RESIDENTS in Cannock can quiz their Local Policing Team Commander online next week.

The first in a series of 'virtual' meetings with Chief Inspector Steve Morrey and Inspector Paul Cooke takes place next Tuesday, November 11, from 6.30-7.30pm.

They are a chance for those who cannot attend the regular face-to-face events to raise concerns.

Questions can be e-mailed to event+51d9b-f6754+ab85adff32@mail-comments.coveritlive.com

Wild flowers topic of talk to group

CANNOCK group members of the Staffordshire Wildlife trust will hear an illustrated talk on the wild flowers of Greece at their next meeting.

Peter Coxhead will give the talk, at St Luke's Church Centre, Cannock, from 7.30pm on Wednesday, November 19.

Entrance is £1.50, to include refreshments and the event is open to everyone.

Mother was burgled as she and children slept

A BURGLAR who broke into a house while two young children slept and went on to almost empty their mother's bank account has been jailed for 21 months by a judge.

Jobless father-of-five Darren Cleverdon, of Rugeley, stole Emee Fullwood's handbag, used her bank card to draw from her account and left her with just a few pounds to her name, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Cleverdon, aged 35, of Park View Terrace, admitted burglary and fraud.

Prosecuting, Mr Jonathan Veasey-Pugh said Miss Fullwood and her two young children were asleep in their end-terrace house when Cleverdon got in through a cat window on September 22 last year.

She awoke the following morning to find her bag missing from the kitchen. It contained £50 in cash, her passport, driving licence and bank card and other personal property which has yet to be recovered. Cleverdon had used the bank card to withdraw £140 from Miss Fullwood's account, leaving only a few pounds in it.

Cleverdon at first claimed he had found the handbag and opted for trial but later changed his plea. Mr Paul Lamb, defending, said his client had been 'desperate'.

He said temptation had got the better of him after his benefits had stopped, and he fell into rent arrears.

Ivy cuts ribbon at new-look pharmacy

Staff celebrate as Ivy Rutter cuts the ribbon at the new-look Lloyds Pharmacy

A LONG-standing customer cut the ribbon at a new-look pharmacy in Hedgesford.

Ivy Rutter joined the Lloyds Pharmacy team for the unveiling in Station Road. It is one of 250 stores nationwide to undergo a transformation and offers enhanced services for conditions, including skin health and pain management.

Manager Jaz Sahota said: "We're excited by our transformation and hope people will feel more at ease talking to us about their concerns."

"We want to help people to discuss their health problems and in return offer them the support they need in our new and relaxed surroundings."

Protect against flu with free jab

RESIDENTS across Cannock Chase District are being advised to have the seasonal flu vaccination.

Cannock Chase Council has joined forces with Public Health England, as part of its Flu Kills campaign, and a local GP Partner to encourage people to protect themselves and their family this winter.

Neil Adams, a consultant in Public Health for the Staffordshire and Shropshire Area team, said it was important that those at increased risk had their free vaccination each year.

Councillor Muriel Davis, Cannock Chase Council's health and wellbeing leader said: "If you are eligible for a free vaccination, speak to your GP or practice nurse to book a vaccination appointment and get the best possible protection."

Residents voice fury at replacement name sign

RESIDENTS have been left furious after new signs were installed welcoming people to Rugeley – in Brereton.

The two signs have replaced the previous roadside posts welcoming people to the village.

Councillor Paul Fisher, a Liberal Democrat member for Brereton & Ravenhill, is leading a campaign to get the new markers removed arguing that the identity of the village has been lost.

He said: "Cannock Chase District Council have taken the Brereton signs down and replaced them with incorrect signs. We are not Rugeley."

"We are proud to have our own identity and want our signs back. We have been renamed with no consultation."

Councillor Fisher added: "We used to have a sign saying 'Welcome to Brereton' but this has been removed. We are a parish in our own right. People here are very passionate about the village and we feel like we have lost our own identity."

Residents of Brereton beside the 'Welcome to Rugeley' signpost that has been erected in their village and left them angry at a loss of identity

Boundary

He claims the new signs should have been placed a mile away from where they have been erected, where the boundary lies.

However the first sign is near the Red Lion Pub on Main Road in Brereton and the second is on Armitage Road, on the boundary with Lichfield.

There are now no signs welcoming people to Brereton and the parish council plans to complain to its district counterparts.

"We want to get this put right as quickly as possible," said Councillor Fisher. "Sadly everything in this scenario has been a complete waste of money."

Councillor Diane Todd, the district council's town centre regeneration portfolio holder, said: "Cannock Chase Council established a town centre Improvement Fund of £300,000 in 2012/13 and a further £200,000 in 2013/14 to fund works that enhance the physical environment of town centres in Cannock Chase."

"Part of this programme has involved replacing road signage on main access points into the town and also street nameplates within town centre areas."

"The current road signs were installed approximately 20 years ago and many of the legs supporting the signs are rusted beyond repair and so need upgrading."

"It is intended to provide clear signage identifying and promoting town centres especially for people who may not be familiar with the area."

She added: "The district council is not changing ward boundaries in any way but in a small number of locations, some of the ward signage will be replaced with the new signs that identify the town centre rather than ward area."

"The A51 from Lichfield is one of the main gateways into Rugeley town and that is why this particular sign has been erected there."

"While this may be of concern, establishing clear signage to town centres is part of a wide programme aimed at supporting and revitalising our town centres."

Top dog Alfie to end his days of collaring criminals

TOP dog Alfie is retiring from Staffordshire Police after helping to collar a host of criminals. He enjoyed a productive spell of more than eight years with the force.

The springer spaniel is now ending his loyal service as Staffordshire Police's most successful canine employee. Alfie joined the force in June 2006 aged 18 months and since then has helped to sniff out a string of dodgy drug dealers and other shady characters.

Initially trained to find illegal substances and firearms, he was also later coached in nosing out bank notes. During his service, Alfie was responsible for recovering millions of pounds in illegal drugs and cash, and contributed to the arrest of more than 400 people.

The doggy detective covered the whole of Staffordshire and also provided support to officers patrolling the local motorway system, also helping Cheshire and West Midlands police forces when called upon.

Alfie was also a regular at the V festival, searching vehicles and tents, and undertook many searches on Operation Nemesis, the force's response to tackling Class A drug dealers.

His handler, Pc Julie Hargreaves, who is based at Stafford, said: "Alfie has been the best search-trained dog that Staffordshire Police has ever, ever had."

"He has been a brilliant search dog and has had a lot of success," she added.

"In one search alone he recovered over £1 million in cannabis resin from a container stored on a yard near Burton."

"In another, he found £500,000 worth of heroin from a vehicle stopped by Central Motorway Police and this was after their officers had declared they couldn't find anything."

Skills

"He then sniffed out £250,000 in cash from a vehicle on the motorway when officers couldn't find anything."

As well as his detective work, Alfie helped with community events such as the county show, village shows and open days. He also went into schools to demonstrate his skills and teach them how to approach and treat dogs.

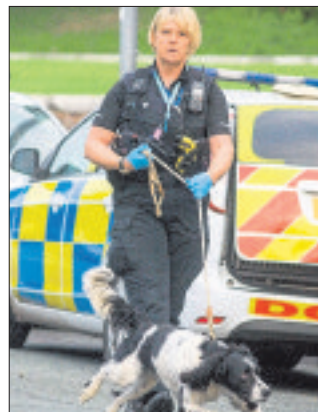

Pc Hargreaves said: "I was really proud recently when he won Best in Show at Lyme Valley Park, Newcastle. He's also been to Crufts for the past two years along with colleagues from West Midlands Police meeting and greeting members of the public as well as taking part in the police demonstrations in the main arena at Crufts."

The police pooch will be able to enjoy his retirement in the Staffordshire countryside with two other springer spaniels.

He will also join the Staffordshire Retired Police Dog Scheme, a new organisation run by volunteers with the mission to improve the lives of retired police dogs.

The talented pupils from Sundance School of Dance in Rugeley competed at Skegness Dance festival last month. The group of 18 girls and three boys, aged four to 21, competed in freestyle solos and pairs events in rock 'n' roll, street dance, contemporary and team categories.

Each club contestant made the final round of their genre and led to the team taking home to their main base at Rugeley Leisure Centre, in Burnthill Lane, a record breaking amount of first places in all sections.

The coveted International Supreme dancer title was won by 12-year-old Lucy Montero who competed against adults to win the over 12s section against 24 other UK and international schools. The school entered two teams into the event and snapped up top spots for both on the podium.

Sundance is run by mother and daughter tutors Dawn Pickering and Rachel Allen. Dawn said: "The dancers never cease to amaze us with their hard work and commitment to dance.

"Every spare minute leading up to the festival has been filled with practice and preparation. We couldn't ask any more of them. We're so pleased and proud of them for their success.

"On Lucy's win we've been chasing this title for years so this is a major achievement within any dance school," she added.

Sundance classes are also held at sites in Etching Hill, Rugeley, Armitage and Stafford. For more details call 01889 570033 or visit www.sundance-schoolofdance.co.uk

Image of planned crematorium revealed

An artist's impression of the crematorium planned for land near the Truckers Rest on the A5 at Cannock

AN artist's impression of a proposed crematorium in Cannock has been released.

Plans for the town's first crematorium next to a popular truck stop have been submitted to South Staffordshire District Council.

Applicants have now published an image of how the building, earmarked for land next to the Truckers Rest on the A5, would look.

The scheme is for a crematorium, chapel and a 75-space car park just behind the Truckers Rest cafe. Bosses there say the business, which opened in the 1950s, will not be affected and will remain open.

Truckers Rest owner Constantinos Charalambous said: "I own about 10 acres of land there. The cafe and truck stop takes up about three acres. We will stay open and the crematorium will be built behind the cafe."

A separate access road would be built for the crematorium. Footpaths and a memorial garden with a water feature at its centre is also included in the plans.

The crematorium will be open Monday to Saturday from 10am to 5pm and Sundays from 10am to 1pm.

When the plans were submitted last week, Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said a crematorium was 'definitely needed' in Cannock.

Tranquil

Applicant Aamer Waheed says the new crematorium will create an 'attractive and tranquil environment for visitors.'

Six full-time jobs will be created if the scheme is given the go-ahead.

A decision on the plans is likely to be made by planning bosses in January.

Boxer to prove a big hit

A FORMER five weight boxing World Champion should prove a hit when he entertains fans in Cannock.

Tommy 'The Hitman' Hearns appears at a Bar Sport's Premier Suite, in High Green, on Thursday, November 13.

Hearns became the first boxer in history to win world titles in four divisions and later became the first fighter to win five world crowns in five different divisions.

He had 67 fights at five weight winning 61, drawing one and losing five.

He will be interviewed on the night by fighter Richie Woodhall, himself former WBC Super Middleweight World Champion.

Scott Murray, owner of Bar Sport and the Premier Suite, said: "Hearns is a true legend.

He is one of the greatest boxers of all time and we are delighted to bring him to Cannock.

"We are consistently bringing the greatest names in boxing of all time to Cannock and fans are in for another top night."

Tickets start from £45 including a five-course meal, a comedian and an auction of boxing memorabilia. Call 01543 572092.

Wounded heroes Battle Back thanks to poppies

THE story of Sapper Clive Smith became a sadly familiar one involving British soldiers serving in Afghanistan.

A bomb he was trying to defuse while on duty exploded and he lost both his legs above the knee. His life was saved only by the quick action of his comrades who helped stem the blood loss before evacuating him from the battlefield.

They were injuries that changed his life forever – but with the help of Shropshire's Battle Back Centre he is on the road to recovery.

Since the blast in 2010, Sapper Smith, of Hednesford, has spent time at the centre in Lilleshall as part of his rehabilitation.

Work carried out at there is partly funded by the Poppy Appeal, which every year raises cash to support service personnel.

The Battle Back Centre at Lilleshall, which is supported by the Poppy Appeal

Familiar

Some 45 million poppies will be distributed by 350,000 collectors with the aim of raising £40 million. This year's campaign carries extra significance as it is the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the First World War.

The poppy so familiar in the fields of Flanders later became recognised as a symbol of remembrance and hope.

But it is the work to help the likes of Sapper Smith which is the legacy of the Poppy Appeal.

The appeal provides £1.4 million every week in direct welfare support and last year the Royal British Legion answered more than 200,000 calls for practical help, advice and support from the armed services community.

Sapper Smith, aged 29, said: "The ongoing support I've received from Battle Back Centre staff and others over the course of my recovery has been invaluable.

"Taking part in activities like wheelchair basketball, rock climbing and bowling was great fun and really encouraged me to focus on what I could do as opposed to what I couldn't do after injury.

"This positive outlook has really helped in all parts of my life.

"It's humbling to know that the centre has been created because of the public's generous support of the Royal British Legion, and the Poppy Appeal in particular."

Charles Byrne, the RBL's director of fundraising, said: "We're encouraging people to dig deep for this year's Poppy Appeal to help us raise £40 million, so we can continue providing our vital support to individuals whether they're still serving, transitioning back to civilian life or have left the services."

Lions ready for festive fundraiser

THE Burntwood Lions annual Christmas craft and gift fair takes place later this month. It will be at the Memorial Hall, in Rugeley Road, from 10am to 3pm on Saturday, November 22.

It will feature more than 50 stalls with a variety of products. There will also be the chance to buy the first ever charity Christmas card for Stephen Sutton's Teenage Cancer Trust fund.

The Erasmus Darwin Jazz Band will entertain between 11am and 1 pm. Admission is £1 for adults, children under-12 go free.

Proceeds will fund the Santa Special for more than 200 disabled and disadvantaged children at Chasewater Railway on November 29.

To book a table, call 01543 671949 or email cindy.barnsley@me.com

Free boxing led by champ

A BRITISH champion is to give young people free boxing lessons at Burntwood Leisure Centre.

The sessions have been funded by a grant awarded by the Office of the Police Crime Commissioner's Proceeds of Crime Fund.

Classes for 13-19-year-olds run every Thursday from 8-9pm, by Wayne 'Mad Dog' Elcock's Box-cleaver coaching academy.

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Leading the way for guides to help partially sighted

AN interactive training session has been launched to help sighted people guide the visually impaired.

The session has been organised by the Burntwood In-Sight Group, a self-help group which meets on the first Saturday of the month at Chasetown Methodist Church, from 2.30 to 4.30pm.

The course is aimed at any member of the public who wishes to know more about how to approach and guide blind or partially sighted people.

It takes place on Saturday, November 15 at the church, off Lawnswood Avenue, from 9.30am. It is free but donations are requested. Light refreshments will be provided.

Mobility

Call Carol Trigg on 01543 670822 to express an interest.

The My Guide service from Guide Dogs aims to help thousands of blind and partially sighted people across the UK and Northern Ireland get out and about on their terms. The aims are to increase personal mobility and independence and reduce social isolation.

Mrs Trigg said: "Not everyone who is visually impaired is able to or necessarily wishes to have guide dog but they still value their independence."

By Laura Blyth

A trained My Guide volunteer is matched with a blind or partially sighted person, who together then create a bespoke activity plan which lasts between an agreed time of six weeks to six months.

The training aims to give participants the confidence and key skills to be able to offer sighted guiding. They can then decide whether they wish to be a volunteer.

A Community Sighted Guide can offer assistance to a blind or partially sighted person while they are out and about in their normal daily lives or as part of their job. It requires no particular time commitment beyond the course.

Pet firm a knockout with national award

Staff from Chase Pet Services with boxing legend Frank Bruno at the Pet Industry Federation awards

A BURNTWOOD pet services company in Staffordshire has won a top national award.

Chase Pet Services scooped Pet Service Business of the Year at a glamorous ceremony at Whittebury Hall in Towcester, Northamptonshire, organised by the Pet Industry Federation and bosses were presented with their trophy from boxing legend Frank Bruno.

Deb Mejor, director of Chase Pet Services, said: "When I launched the business from a table in the corner of my kitchen in 2009, I was determined to make it a success.

"However, never in my wildest dreams did I imagine that five years down the line I would be celebrating with a national award."

Chase Pets Services offers a pet sitting, visiting and walking service to pet owners in Burntwood, Lichfield and other areas of Staffordshire.

Help appeal on kidney condition

A CHASETOWN woman is organising a number of fundraising events to highlight a rare condition that has struck four family generations.

Kay Turner's husband Craig, aged 37 and their three-year-old son Charlie have both been diagnosed with polycystic kidney disease. The condition also affected Craig's late father Philip and his grandmother Jean.

Kay, aged 33, has already generated £1,000 for the Polycystic Kidney Charity. She has staged a fundraising day, took part in the Great Birmingham Run and is planning to take part in further events. She is appealing for more donations to the charity.

Kay is looking for 'as much help as possible'.

To donate visit www.justgiving.com/Kay-Turner2

Wakes held across weeks

ORGANISERS say the popular Burntwood Wakes Festival will be extended from days to weeks.

The committee behind the event wants to make it much bigger and in 2015 and it will be based in the town centre.

Burntwood Town Council spokesman Stephen Lightfoot said: "We'd like it to be a few weeks long rather than just days."

Funeral Directors

The Independent, Family-owned Firm of Funeral Directors

Amid the confusion of bereavement we provide calmness, order and a sense of dignity, so that life, as it must, can go on with hope for the future, as well as respect for the past.

At times of bereavement we have served the local communities in and around this area since 1866. We personally know many of the families we have assisted. Whatever the time of day or night, we have given them the sympathy, advice and help they have needed.

Only an independent family firm, we believe, with its roots in the community, can offer this service with understanding and commitment.

Albion link-up gives pupils sporting chance

RUGELEY pupils have been enjoying a series of sporting experiences following a link-up with West Bromwich Albion.

Chase View Primary has been awarded a £10,000 Lottery grant from the Awards For All scheme which has been used to set up the partnership with the West Bromwich Albion Foundation.

It aims to improve extra curricular sports and healthy lifestyles at the Hillary Crest school.

The main focus of the programme is to provide a free holiday sports camp exclusively for youngsters from the school, which began last week and is scheduled to run in every half term and main school holiday for at least the next year.

Ceremony

During each weekly camp children can take part in a range of activities including football, tennis, golf, dodgeball and basketball.

At the end of the week there is an awards ceremony with everyone receiving medals along with special awards for effort, attitude and achievement.

The sessions are delivered by staff from the Albion Foundation led by head coach Liam Wall and to add to the experience first team player and Northern Ireland international Chris Baird is visiting to talk to the children and add his experience to the coaching on offer.

Some of the group even visited the Hawthorns to take part in a match-day experience at the Baggies' Premier League game against Manchester United.

The grant was awarded following

The whole group with their coaches at the Sports Camp

Liam Wall with Alfie Greenfield, Alfie Wass, Rhys Williams and Hannah Richardson a successful bid by Chase View's PE Co-ordinator Paul Mobberley. He said: "We are delighted to have received this award. It will enable all pupils to have the opportunity to develop their fitness and enjoyment of sport in all of their school holidays."

Chase View Primary is considered a beacon school in the area for its sports provision. It is the first school in the area to receive Sportsmark Gold and the school football team have just been crowned regional champions.

In addition, Year 5 pupils are being trained to junior sports leaders, again in conjunction with The Albion Foundation, to allow them to deliver activities to younger children.

Speaker's secrets of the garden

Chase Terrace Ladies

DEREK Higgott was a very informative and amusing speaker on 'Secret Garden' at the meeting on October 23.

He owns a garden in Little Haywood which he opens to the public for charitable events and gives talks to various groups with photographs.

Last summer he raised £4,500 for Katharine House Hospice.

Derek is a member of various gardening guilds and societies such as the Cottage Garden Society. His love for gardening goes back to when he was about 14 when he entered the Borough Council gardening competition and won a trophy and prize of two crates of beer which his father had to collect for him.

He went on to work for Ingestre golf club tending their surroundings and speaks very fondly of his time working for a well known garden centre chain before moving on to his current position at Shugborough Hall where he works on the estate as part of the team helped by volunteers to whom he imparts his knowledge.

The garden is about three quarters of an acre built on a bank in a hollow and he has been developing it for about 35 years.

He showed photographs of the green garden, planted in honour of his mother, and very colourful and unusual trees.

One of the gardens is a garden for all seasons, planted so that something is always blooming.

He starred in the famous Yellow Book of Gardens, for the Open Garden Scheme.

Halloween party is simply spooktacular

Members get into the spirit of Halloween at their party and fish and chip supper

'SPOOKY' was the order of the evening when Chasetown WI held its Halloween Party meeting.

Skeletons, spiders and slimy things adorned the tables and the food had a distinctly ghoulish flavour.

Supper was fish and chips, followed by severed finger cakes, eyeball jelly and pumpkin cake supplied by committee members, president Joyce Taylor, and Marilyn

Chasetown WI

Price. Members arrived dressed as witches, vampires, and skeletons and a prize for the best costume was awarded to June Ward, who came as a skeleton.

A very good time was had by all. The group meets on the third Wednesday of each month at the Old Mining College, Chasetown.

Guests gather for anniversary

MORE than 120 guests attended the club's 40th anniversary lunch at the Moat House, Acton Trussell.

The host was chairman Peter Wood and among the guests were representatives of all five clubs in the Cannock & Hednesford district; Patricia Stanley, chairman of Cannock Chase Ladies Probus and her husband Roland, Betty Howard-Evans, chairman of Cannock & District Ladies Probus accompanied by vice-chairman Barbara Matthews, Lew Stokes, chairman of Cannock & District Mens Probus and his wife Ann and Rotary Club of Cannock president Allan Rotchell and his wife Anne. Sadly the chairman of Hednesford Mens Probus Geoff Chandler and his wife had to withdraw due to ill health.

The past chairmen together with the current chairman posed for a pre-lunch photograph with a special Probus cake.

Following an excellent lunch, guests were entertained by the musical talents of Dave South.

Romance that got off to bumpy start

Bill and Doreen Schofield of Hednesford celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary

A LIFELONG love affair got off to a bumpy start when young Doreen Degg flung open a door and almost knocked out her future husband Bill Schofield.

But the incident also opened the door of opportunity for the smitten machinist. Both were working at the Fischer Bearings factory in Hednesford at the time.

Bill, now aged 84, said: "I'd had my eye on her for quite a while, so this was my chance. She didn't stop after bashing me on the head but a couple of hours later came over and said she was very sorry. I told her I'd forget about it if she let me take her to the pictures."

The date to the Tivoli did not go exactly to plan when Doreen, now 79, who didn't smoke, took a couple of puffs of one of Bill's cigarettes and had to leave the cinema coughing and spluttering.

"She's never touched one since," says Bill, who left Fischer's to become a miner, working at East Cannock, Cannock Wood and West Cannock No 5 pits before being made redundant in 1983, and turning to DIY and gardening.

The pair, who have two daughters, wed at St Peter's Church, Hednesford, in October 1954 and celebrated their diamond anniversary with their family.

Trust states case over HS2 link in Parliament

A NATURE conservation charity has become one of the first wildlife and environmental organisations in the UK to appear before the HS2 Select Committee.

Representatives from Staffordshire Wildlife Trust presented problems and evidence surrounding the wildlife impacts of the proposed high-speed rail link. HS2 representatives also presented their answers in Parliament and were further questioned about what they would do. It comes as it was confirmed high-speed trains would stop off at Stafford on the Handsacre Link.

By Simon Stone

Impact
The nine-mile stretch linking with the West Coast Mainline had been expected to be scrapped until HS2 chairman Sir David Higgins revealed he wanted it to go ahead.

During the trust's appearance before the committee, it argued that key background data and important mammal species such as pine marten, brown hare and deer have not been considered in the impact assessment.

And bosses said HS2 should plan a 'living landscape' around the route, to create areas where wildlife can survive.

Wildlife Trust planning conservation officer Kate Dewey said, "We had some positive answers and discussions on some points but very little on others, so the next step is to agree in writing with HS2 how they are going to progress actions."

In all, 27 wildlife sites in Staffordshire will be directly affected as part of the plans. The trust has launched a public appeal to raise £17,500 to cover the costs it will incur standing up for wildlife against HS2 through extra staff time, legal fees and extra surveys.

Stories of WWI are given voices

CDs by Danny Farragher

Various Artists

Songs for the Voiceless

THE idea for this collection is simple, the artists found their inspirations from the people who fought, died and survived WWI, with profits going to the Poppy Appeal.

Theo Jones by Sean Cooney of the Young 'Uns sings about the Hartlepool headmaster who has the unenviable distinction of being the first British soldier killed on the UK mainland by the Germans and Good Luck to the Girl That Loves a Soldier is Bella Hardy taking a woman's view of the war and using the work of musical hall artist Vesta Tilley as her inspiration.

Michael J Tinker captures some of the character of God-fearing soldier Charles Ball with his hymn-like and emotionally charged ballad. Ball was severely wounded at the Somme.

There is a cutting bonus track from Jon Boden – If You Want to See the General. Songs for the Voiceless is out now on Haystack Records.

The Willows

Amidst Fiery Skies

The second album for Cambridge five-piece "folkestra", The Willows, is a glorious collection of traditional music fronted by the incredible voice of Jade Rhiannon.

Opener, Red Sands, gives a feel of how sailors of legend felt when they encountered Sirens; it is just so easy to fall under the spell of her tones.

There is Americana with Shores; bluegrass with Good Loving Trail and Celtic style with the up tempo Daughter. On the final track there is the onomatopoeic opening of Wave where you get a classical feel from the fiddle as Rhiannon's voice rides in over the top of the banjo, like a gull skimming the waves. Amidst Fiery Skies is out on Elk Records.

The compilation album whose profits will go to the Poppy Appeal

Mike Vass

In the Wake of Neil Gunn

Mix a nasty disease, a fairly obscure author and one multi-instrumentalist and what do you end up with? One permutation is Mike Vass' "concept" album.

While Scot Vass was in hospital with Lyme's Disease he was given Neil Gunn's book about a sailing trip in the 1930s, this inspired him to replicate it physically and musically.

This instrumental album isn't for folk or acoustic purists.

Vass' guitar on opener, Settled in Clay, produces a sense of the calm waters of Duntulm, Scotland and there is the clever use of sound throughout and on tracks such as Fused Dark.

This album is a very personal journey and it's possible many won't get it. In the Wake of Neil Gunn is out now on Unroofed Records.

Gift vouchers prize in Christmas card contest

CREATIVE youngsters are invited to design a festive greetings card.

Cannock Chase Council has joined forces with Bescot Promotions to launch the Christmas card competition for young people under 16 living in the district.

The best 16 designers will have the chance to win gift vouchers to enable them to pick their own special prize.

The artwork of the winners and runners-up will be displayed in Cannock and Rugeley Town Centres in the lead up to Christmas.

The deadline for entries is December 5 and cards should be posted to: Market Office, Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, PO Box 28, Beecroft Road, Cannock, WS11 1BG.

Rail bosses continuing probe into mine shafts

RAIL bosses investigating a mine shaft near a train track say it is too early to confirm when planned electrification work can continue.

The bridge at Central Drive, Bloxwich, needs to be re-built and raised to enable cable installation. It is part of the £30 million scheme for the Chase Line, which runs between Walsall and Rugeley.

The work was due to be carried out by Network Rail from October to February but was stopped after engineers discovered the extent of the nearby shafts.

A probe into the former mines in the area is now under way.

Investigation work began a week ago but bosses are no closer to knowing how long the will delay will last.

Challenges

A statement from Network Rail said: "We continue to assess the impact of the former mines on our plans to replace the Central Drive bridge as part of the Chase Line electrification.

"Safety is paramount and will inform how the work proceeds and how we overcome these challenges.

"Work to replace the bridge at Central Drive has now been postponed while we carry out further investigation into former mines.

"We knew of their location and had investigated their extent but when all the information was available and assessed, it revealed further research and work is required."

By Craig Hughes

Bloxwich councillor Fred Westley believes it could be after the new year when work could re-start. He said: "There is nothing you can do and all the safety checks need to be done."

It is one of the bridges which needs to be rebuilt as part of the electrification of the line to enable overhead power cables to be installed. This has already been carried out in Broad Lane, Bloxwich, and a similar scheme is also being undertaken in North Street, Walsall.

It is a main route and diversions are in place. It also recently emerged that some of the track will have to be lowered, causing disruption for train commuters. Network Rail has confirmed there will be planned railway closures as part of the project.

It is due to take place later this year and run into the spring.

It is expected there will be diversions and buses will be arranged as an alternative.

Talks teed up on £2m golf centre plans in village

REVISED plans for a proposed £2m golf and leisure centre will be discussed this week before going on show to the public.

Essington Golf Club has been in the planning since 2008 and will see 80 acres of land transformed and 50 jobs created.

The plans will be discussed by the parish council chairman and developers at the Hollybush Garden Centre, Warstone Road, Shareshill tomorrow (Friday).

Councillor David Clift said it would give villagers the chance to air any concerns before the plans are formally submitted.

Previous proposals were refused after residents complained over the possibility of hotel rooms on the site.

Councillor Clift said: "I am meeting with the developers to discuss the proposal. This is especially important so we can see what level of support the project has."

He said: "The investment is there and it will create jobs for local people, which is always a positive."

The leisure centre is set to include a swimming pool, a bar and gym facilities. Councillor Clift had said in June that 50 jobs would be created.

Work on expanding Essington Golf Club began six years ago but was delayed because of the downturn in the building trade.

Helping the pupils get the best grades at A-Level

Academy at heart of community

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

THE Rugeley Sixth Form Academy sits at the heart of its community.

We seek to harness and nurture the ambitions of the young people of Rugeley and enable them to maximise their life chances. We are predominantly an A-Level provider.

Our expert and enthusiastic team of teachers are fully committed to helping our students get the very best grades at A-Level.

We want our students to compete with students globally in achieving places at the best universities they can access.

We are holding our Open Evening this year on November 12 at 6.30pm. This is a key opportunity for students in Year 11 to have a look at our new, purpose-built sixth form centre which is based on the same site as Hagley Park Academy. We also welcome visits from parents because we firmly believe that partnerships between school and parents are vital for the students to maximise their potential.

We are on a steep trajectory of improvement across all aspects of our provision. Our results this year were the best we have ever achieved and equipped our leavers to accept offers from some of the country's best universities.

We are thirsty to continue that trajectory by ensuring all future cohorts achieve better and better levels of success.

This year it is especially important for students to understand what sixth form are doing in September 2015. We are in a period of significant change in the A-Level curriculum and our team is readied to explain how we are moving forward.

Valuable

We think the clarity of our message reflects our determination to ensure that we provide the very best for the students at the academy. The Open Evening provides the opportunity for staff to explain the specifications they are going to deliver to the students and answer any questions that may arise.

We also look forward to talking

Determined to provide the best for its students students and parents through our Non-Qualification curriculum. We understand we have a responsibility to help grow the whole person and not just the academic side of our students. Consequently we offer a range of opportunities for all.

From valuable and meaningful work experience opportunities, sports and games to trips to Peru, we understand that young people today need to grow a broad skill-set in order to embrace their future.

We hope you will come and talk to us. We guarantee you a warm welcome. We really must emphasise that we are a close knit sixth form. We pay great attention to detail in supporting our students. We know them well, we look after them and we recognise the pressures that A-Levels put on them.

We review progress weekly and intervene at the first necessity. Throughout the school day we support the students and we make sure they know what they have to do in their study time at school and at home. Come and talk to us and see what a committed team can do to make your future as brave as possible.

Shoppers urged to recycle poppies

POPPY-WEARERS can recycle their marks of respect at a Cannock supermarket.

Sainsbury's customers can drop their poppies off at an in-store recycling point, where they will be collected by the Royal British Legion to re-use or recycle.

The recycling box will be available at the Orbital Centre store's customer service desk between November 12 and 14.

Sainsbury's is the only retailer providing this service. Store manager Paul Davis said: "The Poppy Appeal was a great success this year for fundraising and we'd like to thank everyone who contributed."

"With this recycling initiative, we wanted to show our customers another way they can support The Royal British Legion to ensure their poppies don't go to waste."

Sex abuse businessmen have jail terms increased

TWO businessmen from Staffordshire have had their 'unduly lenient' sentences for sexually abusing a young girl increased.

Robert Dunn, aged 47, was jailed for two years and eight months and Scott Corder, 42, for six years at Stafford Crown Court in August. The court heard they preyed on the vulnerability of the girl to commit a 'depraved' attack.

By Laura Blyth

After a reference to the Court of Appeal by attorney general Jeremy Wright QC that the sentences were 'unduly lenient', the terms were increased by two years each.

Lord Justice Pitchford said the terms were too soft.

Corder, of Ferrers Road, Yoxall, near Lichfield, and Dunn, formerly of Windmill Bank, Gentleshaw but more recently of The Parks, Trentham, had admitted numerous child porn offences and one count of sexual touching. Corder was also sentenced for three assaults involving an older child.

Lawyers for the pair said they had shown remorse. But Lord Justice Pitchford, sitting with Mrs Justice Cox and Judge Anthony Morris QC, said: "We conclude that the sentence was unduly lenient. It was a depraved sexual assault on an infant child."

Company wins top green award

A CANNOCK firm has been recognised for its work with national retailer Iceland Frozen foods.

Pro-Mec UK Ltd received the award from Mitsubishi Electric in the company's Green Gateway Awards, held at Old Trafford cricket ground in Manchester.

Pro-Mec UK, based at Delta Way Business Centre, came up with an energy efficient alternative to the traditional heating and cooling ducted system for its premises.

It also received £1,000 to donate to its chosen charity, Midlands Air Ambulance.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bird feeders at wildlife trust HQ
WILDLIFE lovers are being urged to stock up on feeders and food for animals as winter approaches.

Visitors to Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's Wolseley Centre headquarters can choose from an expanded range of bird foods, feeders and nestboxes.

The nature conservation charity is also selling specially formulated badger and hedgehog food.

The new range comes on the back of a busy year for the popular visitor centre, which attracts around 100,000 visitors per year.

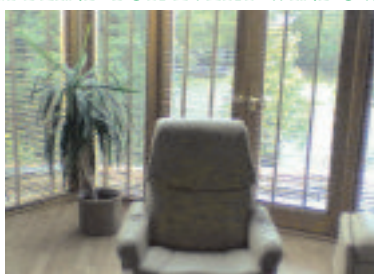

Donors urged to roll up sleeves
NHS Blood and Transplant will be at Cannock next week, and is appealing for volunteers to roll up their sleeves.

Session times are from 1.30 to 3.30pm and 4.30 to 7.30pm on Monday, November 10 at Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, in New Penkridge Road.

To make an appointment, call 0300 123 23 23.

Forgotten Victorian diary brought to life

IT took 10 years to complete and is Hednesford author June Pickerill's most ambitious piece of work to date.

Her latest release Butchers, Bakers & Bonnet Makers: The Forgotten Diary of Daily Life in Early Victorian Cannock is based on the diary of a 12-year-old girl who lived in the town in the 19th century.

And it was a chance meeting in a supermarket that led to Mrs Pickerill publishing the historical diary.

"I was out shopping one day and someone who knew I was interested in local history approached me," she said.

"She said she had this diary that I would probably like to see.

"I don't know who it belonged to but it was discovered when a house was cleared out in Cannock.

"I took it home and the more I read it the more intrigued I became.

"I had to transcribe it. It is written in a bit of a code. The girl used the initials for everyone so it took a bit of working out who was who in the diary but I managed to unravel it."

The diary covers the years from 1840-41 and was written by Mary Lindop.

Her father was a butcher in Cannock and the family lived next to the Crown Hotel in Cannock town centre which was knocked down in 1961.

The population in Cannock at the time was around 350 people. A total of 262 names were mentioned in the book.

Mrs Pickerill continued: "Bakers are mentioned a lot in the diary as well as bonnet makers. Through research I've found out the girl who wrote the diary was called Mary Lindop.

"The book covers day-to-day goings on. It also includes incidents like when someone died in Cannock after they were thrown from a horse and trap.

"It also covers the murder of Christina Collins who died in Rugeley.

"This is a massive part of Cannock's past. This book is very unique. I'm really proud now it's finished," said Mrs Pickerill, who has also penned books on the mining heritage of Cannock Chase.

Copies

This latest publication also features 60 old black and white photos of Cannock. Grandmother-of-four Mrs Pickerill, who lives in Hednesford, has printed 300 copies of her book.

It is priced £12.99 and is on sale at the Museum of Cannock Chase, at Daisy Chain in Hednesford, Heath Hayes, Hazel Slade and Burntwood post offices and at WHSmith in Cannock and Lichfield.

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

RIGHT to Buy is the scheme that helps eligible council and housing association tenants buy their home by offering a discount on the purchase price.

Since 2012 the discounts available have increased and the rates have recently risen again. The new top cash discounts are £77,000 in England, and £102,700 if you live in London. Each year the discount will increase at the rate of inflation.

In addition, eligible tenants can now get up to 70 per cent off the cost of their house – the same maximum percentage discount as for flats.

Since the scheme was refreshed in April 2012 more than 22,500 people in England have become homeowners through the Right to Buy scheme.

Eligible

Could this be the right time for you – or somebody you know – to join them? All additional purchases through the Right to Buy scheme go straight into building new affordable housing for hardworking people locally.

Who qualifies for the Right to Buy? Tenants are likely to be eligible to buy their current home if they can answer 'yes' to the following questions:

- Are you currently a council tenant, or were you living in your home when the council transferred it to another landlord (housing association)?
- Have you been a council or housing association tenant for 5 years or more?
- Can you confirm that you do not live in sheltered housing or other housing designed for elderly or disabled people?

In addition, tenants need to be free from legal problems with debt or outstanding possession orders, and their home isn't due to be demolished. If you don't qualify at the moment, keep an eye on news about Right to Buy as the Government is hoping to make further changes to eligibility in 2015.

How much does it cost?

Home ownership brings many benefits such as freedom to make changes, sense of pride and an investment. But it is not the right choice for everyone and one of the biggest questions to answer is 'Can I afford it?'. When you buy a home you need to budget for one-off costs and ongoing costs, and you need to allow for your finances to change. The one-off costs could include stamp duty, professional fees for a survey,

IF YOU CAN ANSWER 'YES' TO THESE STATEMENTS...

...YOU COULD BE ELIGIBLE FOR A DISCOUNT OF UP TO £77,000

conveyancing and other legal costs. The ongoing costs include mortgage or loan repayments, repairs and maintenance. If the property is leasehold (usually a flat) there will be an annual service charge and ground rent.

There is plenty of guidance available at www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy to help you add up what this means for you including an easy-to-use calculator to help you work out what discount you could get and if you can afford to buy.

Working out your budget

The Money Advice Service offers free, impartial advice on budgeting, mortgages and other financial matters. You can contact them on 0300 500 5000 or go to their website at www.moneyadviceservice.org.uk. The Government's new Right to Buy Agent service can also help. If you are midway through buying and have a problem, get in touch with the Agent service and they can advise you. The advisers are available from Monday to Friday, 8am until 6pm, on 0300 123 0913.

What to do next

If you decide home ownership is the right choice for you, and you want to find out more about Right to Buy, visit www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy. If you decide to go ahead you will need to fill in the application form and take the process forward with your landlord.

Flavia, London

With Right to Buy, you could now get a bigger discount towards buying the home you live in.

Have you been a council tenant for at least 5 years? If so, you could be eligible for a discount of up to £77,000, or £102,700 if you live in London. So is now the right time to think about buying your home?

Bangers on and off the track at raceway

Mick Caton and his daughter Lorna and his car in which he won a race in the Classic Hot Rod class

THOUSANDS of motoring fans flocked to Hednesford Raceway for the track's last meeting of the year.

Scores of cars took to the circuit, which last year celebrated its 50th anniversary, for an afternoon packed with hot rod and banger racing. Sunday's event was followed by its annual fireworks display.

Race director Paul Gerrard said: "It was our last race meeting of the year before the winter break. Races start again in March. We had about 3,000 people through the gates which is a good turnout."

"It's a family friendly place so we had people of all ages enjoying themselves."

"The fireworks display was excellent. Everyone enjoyed themselves as they always do."

Attractions included hot rod racing which featured classic cars from the 1960s and 70s reaching top speeds around the oval track.

There was also banger racing, with dozens of vehicles tearing round the circuit, some not making it to the end.

The next fixture is the Civil War event on January 11, which will feature banger cars from the north and south battling it out.

Freda and working dogs are celebrated

A SERVICE to celebrate working dogs takes place in Cannock Chase next week.

Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) is inviting working dogs and their owners to the remembrance service on Tuesday, November 11 from 2pm.

The annual service, now in its fifth year, was inspired by Freda, a Dalmatian-type dog that was the New Zealand Rifles' mascot, when the regiment was stationed on Cannock Chase during the First World War. She died in 1918, while the regiment was training on Cannock Chase, and is buried there.

Freda's grave on the Chase
Chase AONB officer, said: "The ceremony is a chance to think about the debt of gratitude we owe to working dogs."

Freda's grave is 0.6 miles south east of Brocton. It is marked 'Meml' on the Ordnance Survey Explorer Map 244 - Cannock Chase and its grid reference is SJ978188.

For more details, call Emma Beaman on 01785 619186 or email emma.beaman@staffordshire.gov.uk

Poems

In memory of Freda, and dogs like her, the AONB team is holding a service at her grave, which is off Chase Road, near Stafford.

Last year, 40 people, many accompanied by their dogs, gathered at Freda's grave to take part in the ceremony. This included listening to readings and poems, and laying wreaths on the grave.

Santa Claus on his way to town

THE Cannock Traders Association is delighted to announce it will be holding its annual Christmas light switch-on event on Friday, November 14, in the town centre.

Running from 4pm to 8pm, there will be charity stalls and a fairground for children.

Fireworks

Over at the upper bandstand, Dancebitz will provide entertainment before the fireworks display commences at 7pm.

Due to the fireworks and the requirement for a fall out zone, several public areas will need to be closed between 6.45 and 7.15pm.

Areas closed will be: Market Hall Street from the Beecroft underpass, access points from Church Street leading to Market Hall Street and the exit from Cannock Shopping Centre to Market Hall Street.

All the fun of the fair – a festive fairground will be part of the lights switch-on event

Sleeping Beauty is perfect panto

MAKE sure your Christmas holiday is complete with a visit to see Sleeping Beauty at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock.

Preparations are well underway for this year's professional pantomime which opens on Sunday, December 21.

PMA Productions return with a panto jam packed with all the traditional ingredients of humour, song and dance, and lots and lots of audience participation, with shows from December 21 to 30 from 2.30pm and 7pm most days.

Beautiful

Add a sprinkle of pantomime magic to ensure that your Christmas is complete.

Shorelle Hopkin who children of all ages will know as CBBC's Wolfblood, stars as the beautiful Sleeping Beauty.

A spokesman for the venue added: "We are equally delighted that Keith De Winter returns by popular demand as our panto dame, Nurse Nanny."

"Keith has years of experience playing the pantomime dame and is a firm favourite with audiences at the Prince of Wales Centre."

Darren John Langford, from Hollyoaks, also returns following his performances in last year's panto, Aladdin. The delightful Studio Five dancers join these wonderful performers and many more in the district's principal panto.

So go along and follow the beautiful princess as she tries to escape the clutches of her wicked Fairy Godmother. Can the handsome prince can save the day and awaken Sleeping Beauty from her slumber?

Stunning

This timeless tale is perfect for a stunning pantomime production that will guarantee that Christmas is complete with a visit to the Prince of Wales.

Tickets are still available from the box office.

Penkridge Christmas Market boasts more than 100 stalls of goodies

WITH more than 100 stalls of fabulous food and local crafts – as well as plenty of entertainment – it's no wonder Penkridge Victorian Christmas Market is the event that everyone looks forward to, truly marking the start of the festive season.

This year it will be taking place on Friday, November, 29, from 5pm to 9pm on the site of Penkridge Market.

The Market will be brimming with local produce, with the chance to sample local delicacies such as savoury scotch eggs, speciality cheeses, jams, chutneys and preserves.

And if that's not enough to satisfy your appetite there will be a wide variety of refreshments available, including a hog roast; savoury and sweet crepes; roast chestnuts and doughnuts to name but a few.

The Old Deanery Farm Cafe will also be open serving hot drinks and festive food, including a traditional Turkey Dinner with all the trimmings. There will be a wide range of craft stalls selling everything from glass-beaded jewellery to fabric handbags, rag dolls and wooden toys.

With such a variety of unique gifts, you're sure to find presents for everyone – even that really difficult person, you never know what to buy.

Carols

Father Christmas will of course be making an extra-special guest appearance helped by his good friends of the Round Table. There will be plenty to keep everyone entertained including Arthur's Fun Fair; the Staffordshire Fire engine; Bridgtown Concert Band and Christmas Carols.

Penkridge Market is located in the centre of Penkridge, which is just seven miles from Stafford; seven miles from Cannock and 10 miles from Wolverhampton and is easily accessible from the A449, A5 and M6 (junction 12). Parking and admission is free.

Entry to the market is free. For further information on the event, telephone 01785 713419 or log onto the website www.penkridgemarket.co.uk

DUNLOP Firestone GOOD YEAR MICHELIN PIRELLI

History on show at Hawkesyard

SET in more than 200 acres of beautiful Staffordshire countryside, Hawkesyard Estate has a history that can be traced back to 1270 when the local gentry used the land for hunting.

Now it is the perfect venue for weddings, conferences, functions or family celebrations.

Visitors approaching via the drive get a taste of its magic as the Grade II listed Hawkesyard Hall comes into view, giving a feeling of grandeur.

At this time of year, the hall is dressed for the festive season in a host of twinkling lights.

Dazzled

Whether you are attending one of its party nights, family carvery lunches, festive afternoon teas – with all the seasonal favourite indulgences – New Year's Eve family gala or attending one of the many weddings and events taking place in December, prepare to be dazzled.

A number of elegant state rooms in the original hall are available, with a host of plasterwork, elegant fire places and access to the manicured formal gardens, along with modern suites giv-

The historic Hawkesyard estate, set in more than 200 acres, dates back to 1270 giving you a choice of period splendour or modern contemporary chic.

The hall now boasts accommodation for guests to stay over, with a choice of standard rooms, executive rooms and suites.

There is something to suit every taste and pocket.

To truly appreciate Hawkesyard Estate, you need to see it at first hand. Staff would like to extend an invitation to view and meet the team.

If you would like more information, or would like to make an appointment to go along and view the venue, please do not hesitate to contact the team.

Late night shopping and grotto

THE 2014 Rugeley Christmas lights switch-on will take place on Friday November 29 in Market Square.

Rugeley Town Council has again added to the illuminations with more festive displays throughout the town.

The countdown to switching on the lights will begin at 6pm. The 2014 countdown will be lead by Lance Cpl Watchman V.

Brewery Street Shopping Centre will remain open until late, along with the cafe, offering hot drinks, snacks and meals. A free mince pie is available with any purchase – valid on late night only. Brewery Street Shopping Centre will be switching on its own Christmas Lights also on November 29.

Santa will arrive around 10am to kick off proceedings.

Popular

The centre has been serving the shoppers of Rugeley for more than two decades.

It currently has around 27 shops under one roof, plus outside shops. It remains popular with the residents and there are also a number of units available for anyone looking to start their own business – taking advantage of the Christmas period.

The shopping centre benefits from free car parking, disabled access, single level shopping, toilets and baby changing facilities.

If you want to meet Santa he will be in his grotto which is open 10am to 3pm.

The grotto remains open every Saturday up to Christmas Eve. Admission is £2.50 and includes a selection box and a framed photo Santa.

Extravaganza is back again

HOLLYBUSH Garden Centre and Aquaria's Christmas extravaganza is back with one of the largest and most original choices of Christmas decorations, trees and lights to be found.

There is something for everyone – from budget lines to a wonderful array of stylish decorations and lights that would grace a palace – at the centre in Shreshill.

A Magical Wonderland theme has been adopted for Christmas 2014, with all the latest decorating ideas presented in imaginative displays fronted by a cosy log cabin.

New ranges include blush pink and frosted ice-white decorations, and latest designs in reds, golds, silvers and woodland themes.

Hollybush's Christmas selection gives you the opportunity to forward plan the décor that awaits your family and friends this Christmas. From the trimming of the tree to the setting of the table for Christmas dinner – Hollybush has it all.

Trees

The most wonderful array of Christmas trees is on display, with trees in all sizes and colours complementing any home.

These include upside-down trees, frosted trees, artificial trees up to 15 feet and fibre optic trees. Real trees and wreaths are available from the beginning of December.

There is also a lighting range that will make your choice harder than ever. Static lights, chaser lights, LED lights, indoor and outdoor lights. Also a fantastic range of candle arches and novelty lights. Christmas will be more colourful than ever!

Artificial wreaths will surprise you with their variation and originality, with new items sourced from the world over.

Nativity scenes and animation displays will be the envy of your friends and provide a real talking point this Christmas. You will also find pre-lit canvas pictures, fibre optic tapestries alongside novelty dancing Christmas characters and acrylic light-up animals. There's even a life size talking tree for your entertainment.

A huge range of Christmas decorations, trees and lights are available

But don't forget the most important person of all this Christmas – Santa Claus. He will be arriving on Saturday, November 8 to take up residence at Hollybush every weekend right up to Christmas, from 11am to 3pm. He will even be available on December 24 from 11am to 2pm. Admission to see Santa is only £3.95 and includes a gift (times may vary subject to queues). After visiting Santa why not take a festive ride on our miniature railway with Christmas characters, or enjoy a fairground ride (subject to weather conditions).

Jigsaws

Make it a day out at Hollybush – there are more gifts in store than you can imagine. Our gift department is packed with CDs, cuddly toys, books, jigsaws, ornaments, vases, picture frames and prints. We have an extensive range of fragranced candles, bath bombs and luxury soaps. Not surprisingly there's also every conceivable item for the gardener.

For the men in your life we even have a range of car care accessories and great gift ideas in our Draper Tool Shop and Hunting and Fishing shop. If that is not choice enough, a Hollybush gift voucher is ideal for that last minute gift.

Visit our Shopping Village where you can find cards, jewellery, shoes and bags, traditional sweets, printed clothing, cane furniture, and mobility aids.

You can even get your eyes and ears checked in our Optical and Hearing Centre! Don't forget to visit our Coffee Shop and Licensed Restaurant for a winter warmer, breakfast, lunch and afternoon tea.

As you leave ensure you visit our fully stocked farm shop with fruit and vegetables, fresh flowers and party accessories.

38 So much more to It's simply great value Packington Moor as new menus launched PACKINGTON Moor specialises in food at its best – always fresh and in season.

There is a full butchery and fruit and vegetable section – a true feast for the senses. With Christmas on its way, the shop will be overflowing with delicious festive inspiration.

Look out for home-grown sprout sticks, rich homemade Christmas cakes, traditional plum puddings, homemade mince pies and loads of great gift ideas.

How about a Packington homemade hamper or a farm shop gift voucher for the foodie who has everything?

Decadent

Christmas turkey orders are flooding in already. Why not try something different this year? What about a Packington free range cockerel or one of the locally farmed geese or ducks?

Using the order form available in store, or to download from the farm shop website, you can select everything you need for a decadent and food-filled Christmas – from Packington free range pork to the award-winning homemade Packington pork pie and farm shop cheeses.

If you are entertaining over Christmas, Packington chefs have come up with an inspired menu of food to take home, from casseroles and giant pies to bite-sized food and delicious desserts from the menu available in store or the website.

Order and then collect from the farm shop, even ready.

A special festive lunch menu will be served in the cafe throughout December with an extended lunch service.

Large parties are welcome but booking is essential.

The usual all day menus will also be available, including the popular breakfasts and teas.

BISTRO Le Coq, the popular bistro in the village of Stowe-by-Chartley, has now launched its exciting new menus for autumn and the Christmas period.

Staff have been working on ideas for new dishes, and have finalised a new simpler approach to eating out.

Customers old and new can enjoy great value, whether dining at lunchtime or in the evening, based on the original concept from when the establishment first opened in 2003.

In order to ensure that customers get the very best value whatever time they dine, fixed price menus, for lunch and dinner, offering a good choice of starters and main courses at a very competitive price, are back with a small number of specialities at a supplement. Straightforward, or as Alexander Meerkat would say, 'Simples!'

The dinner menu, served 6 to 9pm from Tuesday to Saturday, offers two courses for £13.99.

A Christmas dinner menu, is priced £14.99 for two courses, £18.99 for three courses.

The lunch menu, served Tuesday to Saturday 12 to 2pm, offers two courses for £9.99.

A Christmas lunch menu of two courses is priced £9.95.

Each Sunday, served between 12 and 3pm, the lunch menu offers two courses for £11.99.

Festive Sunday lunch is available at £12.99 for two courses, £16.99 for three courses.

There is a wide choice of desserts available from just £3.95.

For truly exceptional value, on Monday evenings from 6 to 9pm, Bistro Le Coq offers three courses, for two people, for £30 – including one bottle of wine.

These new menus, offer a wide choice of traditional starters and main courses, with French influence – and some British favourites too.

There is a fabulous new wine menu, with a better choice of more interesting wines, from France and around the world.

The new menus are available now.

Visit www.bistrolecoq.co.uk to see the new menus or go along and try them and tell staff what you think.

Bistro Le Coq in Stowe-by-Chartley is a popular choice with diners

Stay positive in your later years

IF you want to enjoy your senior years, it can be difficult sometimes to know where to turn for assistance.

Age UK South Staffordshire can help you make it through the vast maze of information available.

It provides free information and advice, a range of paid for and free services to suit your needs and a whole host of opportunities to contribute to your local area.

Call 01785 788 499 or 477 for details on winter warmth and helping you get the money to which you are entitled.

The service can also help you with support in your home and great day opportunities.

Age UK has pooled its wealth of knowledge to produce a series of expert guides, all free of charge. One of the latest is called 'Live Well and Love Later Life' but there is a guide for almost every area to help you make the most of your later life.

Enjoy an active Christmas

Age UK has plenty of information

There are plenty of ways to keep your brain in shape. Find out how to stay sharp in later life

Avoiding illness and keeping in shape are among the focuses of Age UK. Call 01785 788496 for details

Engaged

● Looking on the bright side – the guide includes a section on how to stay positive in your later years. Thinking positively can work wonders for your mind and your body too.

● Staying engaged – there are plenty of ways to keep your brain in shape. Find out to stay sharp in later life. Age UK South Staffordshire also offer lots of opportunities for volunteering in your local community phone 01785 788 484 with free training and support to do well.

● Healthy skin – find out about healthy skin, avoiding sun damage and preventing the development of features of ageing such as wrinkles.

● How to get a good nights sleep – many people have problems sleeping as they move into later life. Sleep expert Professor Kevin Morgan explains how to get a good night's rest.

● Keeping healthy and fit – leading professors give advice on how to avoid illness, and how to stay fit, including information on how to maintain a healthy diet in older age which impacts on a whole host of aspects of later life.

The Fact Pack updated for 2015 is available by phoning 01785 788 496 or 499, or you will be able to download factsheets from the site www.ageuk.org.uk/southstaffs which will be added to throughout winter. The 2015 Fact

Pack contains a limited offer to each applicant for a free 2015 Wellbeing and Diet MOT, looking at BMI, weight, nutritional plan, exercise options (free group walks and a free first exercise class) and lots more besides.

We can offer a volunteer mentor for people over 65 if they live in South Staffordshire, Cannock, Stafford, Tamworth and Lichfield postcodes.

The mentor will normally visit at least once a month (subject to need).

There is also access to a host of other services and information. The first 10 people to enquire and leave their details will also get a box of local fruit and vegetables. Telephone 01785 788 496 quoting EATFREE.

Dilshad is hot stuff

A WARM welcome awaits you at the Dilshad Restaurant in Cannock.

Established in 1979, it has proven over the years to be a success in fine dining. Dilshad is committed to maintaining its high standards and has received many accolades, including winner of Best South Asian Restaurant 2012 in the West Midlands Tiffin Cup. It has also achieved fifth place in the National Tiffin Cup 2012 competition, awarded by the House of Commons.

"We employ some of the best chefs in our kitchen, creating dishes unrivalled in quality and taste to trigger those taste buds," says owner Tony Uddin.

The restaurant has recently undergone major refurbishment to more than double its size, catering for up to 100 people.

And if it's spice you like,

Dilshad's chefs have concocted a tantalising dish. "I have many customers who come here to enjoy a really hot curry," says Tony.

"I thought I would try to make one of the hottest in the UK. The Dilshad Inferno is so hot that we ask customers to sign a disclaimer before they eat it. It will literally feel like an inferno raging inside. The taste will be absolutely delicious, but each mouthful will really hurt."

"If someone can finish the Dilshad Inferno, I will let them have the meal for free," says Tony.

The Dilshad is now taking bookings for its Christmas Day lunch menu. Booking is advised well in advance to secure seating.

Offering a choice of Indian or English cuisine – and two time settings to suit your individual needs – the Dilshad is the ideal place to enjoy Christmas Day.

Award-winning Elaichi flavours

THE Elaichi Restaurant serves fresh, flavourful, Bengali-style dishes, prepared from the finest ingredients, sourced from around the world.

As one of Cannock's longest established restaurants, the least diners would expect from Elaichi is good customer service and the Cannock Road restaurant has it in abundance.

Customer service has won the restaurant awards, with certificates adorning the wall of the exquisite looking dining establishment.

With the restaurant situated along the main row of shops in Chads Moor's high street, it remains popular with many people from within walking distance. However, its reputation has earned it admiration among residents from neighbouring towns and villages.

Staff make everything by hand every day – from delicious and flavourful sauces to salad dressings.

It recently expanded the menu to include more moderately priced dishes of fine quality spices.

The menu ranges from traditional starters to main dishes, to chef's specialities such as Shai lamb and the Elaichi special. Fresh ingredients are used every day to give that extra quality to all dishes.

Elaichi is open seven days a week, including Bank Holidays from 5pm. Takeaways are available, with free delivery on offer within a five mile radius, on orders more than £8, a free bottle of wine for orders of more than £20, £10 to spend in the restaurant when more than £40 is spent and free poppadums and dips with every meal.

Elaichi was named winner of the Curry Cup award by the Midland Balti Association 2012-13.

It has a five-star rating for food hygiene, as awarded by Cannock Council.

Prepare a festive feast

THE Whitehouse Brothers, Steve and Andy, have more than 65 years of experience between them.

The brothers worked in the industry for many years before taking a different path by opening their own meat supermarkets, offering the public and butchers with massively discounted prices all day every day, including quality pork and beef from local suppliers.

There are currently four stores in the area. The first store to open is located in Burntwood, which was followed by the Cannock store, before a third store launched in Hednesford, in 2013.

The fourth store, situated in Rugeley town centre, opened in October. It is the only fresh meat independent retail shop in the town.

Pride

The brothers are proud of their achievements, going from strength to strength, and currently employ more than 75 people.

Whitehouse Brothers understand that your Christmas lunch is the most important meal of the year, and they pride themselves on supplying top quality meats to help you enjoy the festive season and all year round.

"We have dedicated ourselves to bring you the best quality food at the best price possible," says Steve. "Our wide choice of Christmas fare includes fresh and frozen turkeys, fresh and frozen turkey breasts, geese, ducks and large chickens. And it's not just the festive bird that can be provided.

Whitehouse Brothers understand that Christmas lunch is an important meal

"We also provide the trimmings including dry cured bacon, either sweet or smoked and pigs in blankets."

In June 2014, Whitehouse Brothers also expanded their buffet service by opening new purpose-built premises at the Cannock store.

This allows them to focus on their growing buffet trade, which offers a wide selection of own cooked meats and pies.

Their buffet service either caters for your own party for any occasion – especially for Christmas. Small buffets are also available for offices and companies which are delivered free of charge locally.

"Our Christmas – all year round – Club is a great way of easing the strain of the festive period. Simply put money in each week or whenever suits, then spend it at Christmas. If you have money left, you can use it whenever you wish and add money too," Steve continues.

Savings

"Hampers will be available for Christmas week with a collection date of up to 12pm on Christmas Eve. Pre-order all your meat any time from now until approximately December 14.

"We also offer a loyalty and savings card which was introduced in July.

"Buying a hamper is a great way to organise your festivities because you not only have all your Christmas lunch sorted, but probably your New Year meals as well.

"Whitehouse Brothers understands that most supermarkets sell meat and poultry at above average prices, local butchers sell expensive meat because the climate demands it. With us you can have the best of both worlds – especially for Christmas.

"For the past three years our Christmas poultry prices have been half the price of most of the supermarkets. "In 2012, our turkeys and turkey crowns were nearly half the price of the supermarkets and the local butchers.

We hope to be able to continue to do the same this year."

Royal British Legion Festival of Remembrance 2014 (BBC1, 9.10pm)
It's time to pay tribute to the brave men who fought in the two world wars and more recent conflicts. Of course, with this year marking the centenary of the First World War, the festivities are all the more significant. Tonight, Huw Edwards hosts this annual event from the Royal Albert Hall, which sees the Queen and other members of the royal family in attendance. Joss Stone, the cast of War Horse and D-Day veteran Jim Radford perform alongside the Massed Bands of the Household Division, and the bands of HM Royal Marines and Queen's Colour Squadron. Together they pay tribute to the victims of conflict, from the First World War to the present day, in a festival that also includes the traditional two-minute silence as thousands of poppy petals falling from the venue's ceiling.

Tess Daly and Claudia Winkelman present another round of dancing action as the twinkle-toed celebrities compete to avoid ending up in the bottom two – and to add to the tension, the losing pair will miss out on performing at the world-famous Blackpool Tower Ballroom next week. Len Goodman, Bruno Tonioli, Craig Revel Horwood and Darcy Bussell are the ones to impress as the hopefuls perform a mixture of routines. The results are tomorrow at 7.45pm. 8.00 Doctor Who. Part two of 2. As Cybermen roam the streets of London, old friends unite in the battle against evil. But the Doctor soon realises that sacrifices must be made. Last in the series. 9.00 The National Lottery Live. Gaby Roslin reveals the numbers for the Lotto and Thunderball draws. 9.10 Royal British Legion Festival of Remembrance 2014. Huw Edwards presents coverage of the annual event from the Royal Albert Hall in the presence of the Queen and other members of the royal family. Joss Stone, the cast of War Horse and D-Day veteran Jim Radford perform alongside the Massed Bands of the Household Division, and the bands of HM Royal Marines and the Queen's Colour Squadron. (R) 8.00 Walking Through History: Norman Conquest of Pembrokeshire. Tony Robinson heads to the south-west corner of Wales and one of Britain's finest coastal paths to find out why Pembrokeshire feels so English, even though it's more than 100 miles from the border. With its numerous castles and a fine cathedral, there are sure signs the Normans stamped their mark over the area. Tony's four-day walk traces the story of their conquest of the county, which he discovers was very different from the knockout victory at Hastings, involving a long, fiercely fought struggle. 9.00 Film: The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel. (2011) Premiere. Seven English pensioners looking for a fresh start are drawn to an advert for a hotel in the Indian city of Jaipur, and plan to spend their retirement there. They arrive to find the building dilapidated but are won over by the enthusiastic young manager, and each embarks on their own adventures in the city. Sue Perkins

The Mekong River with Sue Perkins (BBC2, 8pm)

It must be nice being a celeb. If they want a holiday, they don't need a travel agent – they can simply check in with a TV network instead, who are more than likely to pack them off to some exotic, far-flung destination. Mind you, once there they often earn their keep. This latest star-based travelogue sees comedian and Bake Off host Sue jet off to Southeast Asia, where she explores the lives of people who live on the banks of its longest river. She begins in Vietnam, where she sells noodles and farms prawns, before taking a sombre trip into Cambodia, to talk to one of the survivors of Pol Pot's genocide. There's also a look at how a whole village pins its survival on a single freshwater lake.

8.00 The Mekong River with Sue Perkins. New series. The comedienne and Great British Bake Off presenter embarks on a 3,000-mile journey along the Southeast Asian river, exploring lives and landscapes on the point of dramatic change. She begins in Vietnam, where she meets traditional river people caught up in a new capitalist revolution, before trying her hand as a noodle saleswoman and prawn farmer. Continuing to Cambodia, she is moved by the tale of a survivor of Pol Pot's genocide, before bonding with the residents of the village of Kuampang Pluk, whose survival depends on the bounty of Tonle Sap, the largest freshwater lake in Asia.

9.00 Police Under Pressure. Documentary following officers in Sheffield as they investigate two separate incidents of missing girls, both victims of grooming and sexual abuse.

8.00 Speed with Guy Martin. The motorcycle racer leaves his comfort zone as he attempts to set a world speed record for a hovercraft. These machines are notoriously difficult to control, so to learn the basic skills needed he's put through his paces by Royal Marines in a military training operation. To achieve his goal, Guy will need to stay over 86mph for a kilometre, but at these speeds, because of the hovercraft's inherent instability, even the most experienced pilots can lose control – and the worsening weather makes things that much more challenging.

9.00 Homeland. Carrie tries to earn the trust of a frightened asset, Quinn and Fara stake out a new suspect and Saul catches a break when he spots a familiar face on his way out of town. CIA drama, starring Claire Danes, Rupert Friend, Nazanin Boniadi and Mandy Patinkin.

Pacific Heights, Channel 5, 10.55pm
 A couple buy their dream house and rent out a flat to a well-off bachelor who turns out to be the tenant from hell. He subjects them to a campaign of terror in a plot to force them off the property – while the law appears to be always on his side. Psychological thriller, starring Michael Keaton, Melanie Griffith, Matthew Modine and Tippi Hedren. (1990)

TUESDAY
Secret Liaison, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 A former District Attorney learns her sister has been accused of murder, and flies out to Los Angeles to clear her name. Her investigation uncovers a web of high-level infidelity and betrayal and leads to her making an enemy of one of the city's most powerful men. Thriller, starring Meredith Monroe and Rick Ravanello. (2013)

WEDNESDAY
Carnal Innocence, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 World-famous musician Caroline Waverly moves back to her quiet home town, hoping to establish a simpler life. However, her return coincides with a spate of killings, and as rumours spread that a serial killer is on the loose, she begins to worry she may be the next victim. Thriller based on Nora Roberts' novel, starring Gabrielle Anwar and Colin Egglesfield. (2011)

Psycho, Friday, Channel 4, 11.40pm

FRIDAY
GoldenEye, ITV, 10.40pm
 James Bond heads for Russia to investigate the connection between the theft of an experimental helicopter and an orbital satellite weapon with the power to devastate entire cities. He discovers both have fallen into the hands of a mysterious criminal mastermind. Adventure, with Pierce Brosnan. (1995)

Psycho, Channel 4, 11.40pm

Michael Collins, BBC2, 12.40am
 Fact-based drama focusing on the life of the Irish radical who rose to prominence after his involvement in the 1916 Easter Rising against British rule. Written and directed by Neil Jordan, and starring Liam Neeson, Julia Roberts, Alan Rickman and Aidan Quinn. (1996)

Paying a fitting tribute to our fallen war heroes

Every November we pay tribute to the selflessness of those individuals who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country, remembering their deeds and valour in conflicts across the globe.

This latest festival at the Royal Albert Hall, where some of the biggest names in music will gather together in the presence of the Queen and other members of the royal family, reminds us that Remembrance comes in different guises, both silent and celebratory.

Those paying homage to the fallen include the cast of War Horse and D-Day veteran Jim Radford. They perform alongside the Massed Bands of the Household Division, and the bands of HM Royal Marines and the Queen's Colour Squadron.

Huw Edwards presents coverage, which includes the traditional two-minute silence as thousands of poppy petals fall from the venue's ceiling.

This latest poignant show also features a performance by singer Joss Stone. The Grammy and Brit Award-winner has teamed up with guitarist Jeff Beck to record 2014's official Poppy Appeal single.

On October 23, Joss took part in The Watch – a sunrise to sunset vigil at the Cenotaph in central London – to launch 2014's Poppy Appeal.

"I was honoured to be asked to record this year's Poppy Appeal single and to take part in The Watch," explains Joss.

"It is a fantastic charity and The Watch is great new initiative and I hope it becomes a continuing feature each year when we remember the fallen and celebrate the living."

With this year marking the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the First World War, it will be an emotional time for many, including Pamela Armitage Campbell.

The eloquent octogenarian has a spirit that is infectious. It's possible she picked it up from her dad, Reg Evans.

Earlier this year he was portrayed by Daniel Mays in ITV's drama-documentary The Great War: The People's Story, but Reg's life is worthy of any big-screen epic.

The First World War hero was decorated for his bravery on the front line in 1915; he was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal before suffering an injury that could have destroyed most people.

Reg was shot in the face in February 1916, an injury which cost him most of his jaw and sent him away from the battlefields.

After undergoing pioneering surgery and a period of recovery, he volunteered to continue to serve for the British forces in Russia.

Reg was posted far away from home until 1920, long after his peers had been demobbed.

"I've had my father's letters for many years now," Pamela explains. "I've spent a lot of time on my own because my husband worked in Germany and I was living in France, so I would take them out periodically and type out the letters. It would take a long time because they were written on bits of paper, anything he'd had to hand in the trenches."

Those notes and letters were turned into the ebook, Reg Evans DCM – A Hero's War in His Own Words, which like the Festival of Remembrance, is a fitting tribute to some unforgettably brave people.

Joss Stone is among the performers, Royal British Legion Festival of Remembrance 2014, Saturday, BBC1, 9.10pm

MONDAY
How Rich Are You? Channel 4, 8pm

Unless those winning Lottery numbers paid off, or you're the brains behind a lucrative business, money, for most of us, is too tight to mention. However, while many are struggling to make ends meet, we may be richer than we thought compared to some families. It's all a question of relativity, and one man who's attempting to put things in context is Richard Bacon. This one-off special illustrates where each of us stand in the great money map of Britain – and what that position means. As the UK has been officially declared the most unequal society in Europe, Bacon, the experts and the studio audience examine the consequences of the income divide.

TUESDAY
The Nation's Favourite Queen Song ITV, 9pm

Some groups can be dismissed with the phrase 'when you've heard one, you've heard them all', but not Queen. From the anthemic We Will Rock You to the disco-influenced Another One Bites the Dust via the rockability of Crazy Little Thing Called Love, the operatic Bohemian Rhapsody and the frankly indescribable Bicycle Race, their back catalogue is nothing if not eclectic. It's one of the reasons they managed to rack up nearly 50 top 30 hits, and are still attracting new fans more than 23 years after frontman Freddie Mercury's death. But which of their tracks is the nation's favourite? This countdown aims to find out as it counts down the top 20. Celebrity fans including Katy Perry, Tony Hadley, Mel C, Noddy Holder and Arlene Phillips offer their opinions, while Queen members Roger Taylor and Brian May share some of the stories behind the songs.

WEDNESDAY
Broadmoor ITV, 9pm

Let's make no bones about it – the first part of this documentary made for rather shocking viewing, and this concluding part doesn't get much easier. Then again, that's why before now cameras haven't been allowed in the most famous high-security hospital in the world. In tonight's final instalment, one patient describes his life as 'satanic' and gives details of his abusive childhood, while another is finally considered well enough to leave Broadmoor after spending over a decade there. Meanwhile, the cameras follow patients taking part in a group drugs counselling session and the nursing staff are on some vital training of their own. They're getting special training in managing small-scale riots kitted out with helmets and shields. Plus, it's explained how a new hospital is being built nearby to replace the old hospital, so we may never see Broadmoor in this light again.

THURSDAY
The Fall BBC2, 9pm

It's been just over a year since we last saw serial killer Paul Spector, and those of us who were hooked on the first series have been eagerly awaiting the second run to find out what he's been up to since then. Actually, not that much because the drama picks up just 10 days after Spector was seen taking his wife and children away from their Belfast home. However, life has changed dramatically for Jamie Dornan, the actor who plays him. He's been cast in the eagerly awaited Fifty Shades of

The Fall, Thursday, BBC2, 9pm

Grey movie, which is set to turn him into a major star on both sides of the Atlantic. He's sure to be running from fans before long, rather than the police. Not that Spector appears to be panicking, although he does have lots of loose ends to tie up in Belfast, especially as his final victim is still alive. Gibson tries to help her remember her attacker, but it's hearing how a face from his past is assisting the police that prompts Spector into drastic – and terrifying – action.

FRIDAY
Children in Need 2014 BBC1, 7.30pm

Terry Wogan and Tess Daly kick off another bumper evening of fundraising fun in support of disadvantaged children across the UK. The cast of West End hit Charlie and the Chocolate Factory gets the party started before the action moves to Albert Square for a musical performance by the EastEnders stars. There's also a treat for Doctor Who fans with an exclusive clip. At 8pm, Bruce Forsyth is reunited with Tess Daly to host a junior version of Strictly Come Dancing, and the Children's Choir sees 2,000 young voices singing in unison across the nation. By 8.30pm One Direction make their first appearance of the evening, and there's plenty more to come before things wrap up at 2am.

New Corsa is a big deal

By Graham Breeze

Vauxhall this week unveiled the brand's most significant car in years with the arrival of a new Corsa.

The supermini is already the third best selling car in Britain but Vauxhall are clearly unhappy to be trailing behind Ford's Fiesta and have come up with a real option.

I've long been boring friends and work colleagues about the virtues of Ford's amazing 1.0 litre EcoBoost so today I'm feeling a little smug that Vauxhall has also recognised its strengths and come up with a genuine rival with a one-litre, three cylinder engine.

You can chose from either 89bhp or 113bhp engines – the 113 being the quickest model available though a VXR is on the way which will develop 200bhp.

The big news is that Vauxhall is so determined to take a slice of Ford's market that prices have been chopped and the 1.0 litre comes in £1,000 cheaper than the Fiesta with prices starting at just under £9,000.

From the outside there are no dramatic changes in appearance but it's under the bonnet that Vauxhall has concentrated efforts on producing improved performance, better fuel consumption, lower emissions and all at a lower price.

Corsa still comes in three and five door versions. The three door is a stylish looker while the five door will prove more popular with the small family buyer.

There are noticeable changes at the front with new headlamps, bonnet, grille and bumper derived from the Adam city car while inside there is a smart new centre console, seven-inch touchscreen system and a more upmarket look. Vauxhall claim the inside is class leading and may just be right.

There's better ride and control thanks to a new lower suspension system bolted on to the basic platform and the 113bhp 1.0-litre three-cylinder turbo tested took just 10.3 seconds to get from 0-62mph.

Vauxhall claims fuel economy of 57.6mpg and 115g/km of CO2 for the 113bhp version and 65.7mpg and 100g/km for the 89bhp model. A new 1.3-litre CDTi diesel is the most frugal, returning up to 88.3mpg with tax-free emissions of 85g/km.

Three new gearboxes – a manual, an automatic and an Easytronic – are available, with improved shift quality and providing greater overall efficiency.

The New Corsa is the first small Vauxhall to be available with the new six-speed, torque converter automatic transmission giving an increased number of ratios.

The new Corsa has a heated front screen – a first for Vauxhall – and £450 will give you an advanced parking system, complete with rear view cameras and side blind spot alerts.

Without testing the model it's hard to explain just how impressive the drive is. It's quiet around town or when being asked to perform and amazing technology means it pulls surprisingly well to reach top speeds.

There's enough room in the back for three passengers, though you would not be comfortable over long journeys, and the 285 litre boot is big enough for most things but not the golf clubs. The 60-40 split rear seats don't fold completely flat either.

The outgoing Corsa has been a sales phenomenon for Vauxhall and has been the company's best-selling car for many years, vying with Fiesta for the UK's Number One spot and topping sales charts in Scotland and Northern Ireland outright.

In its last full year, 84,000 were sold, and the UK is now the lead market for Corsa by a large margin – Germany was the second biggest market in 2013 with around 50,000 sales.

Make no mistake this fourth generation Corsa is a big deal for Vauxhall and a fortune has been invested to ensure it becomes the company's most important player. Friends and colleagues beware! I'm going to be preaching about the amazing three cylinder 1.0 litre Corsa engine for a very long time

Two new models for Peugeot 308 will improve Lion appeal

With excitement building following the debut of the performance-oriented 308 GT at the Paris Motor Show, Peugeot has announced full details of two new models that will further enhance the range's appeal.

The 308 GT Line capitalises on the sporting character of the GT and is available on a wide range of PureTech, HDi and BlueHDi powertrains. Meanwhile, the 308 Sportium is a new special edition model for retail customers and features Peugeot's ultra-efficient three-cylinder petrol engine. Both models will bring new buyers to the versatile and practical 308, the reigning European Car of the Year 2014.

Sporting

Introduced in both hatchback and SW body style, the Peugeot 308GT Line offers customers the sporting character of the 308 GT matched to one of five powertrain options.

Additional exterior equipment includes 18-inch 'Diamant' alloy wheels, twin exhausts with black lacquered rear diffuser and tinted rear side windows.

Inside, the 308 GT Line features half-Alcantara sports seats with red stitching, plus a driver and front passenger lumbar adjustment with massage function. A 'GT style' leather steering wheel with red stitching and 'GT style' carpet mats are also included, along with aluminium style pedals and door sill protectors.

Within the 308 range, the GT Line replaces Feline trim which will be deleted. Prices start at £21,345 on the road.

Introduced as a retail special edition and positioned between the 308 Access and Active trim levels, the Peugeot 308 Sportium is about promoting the benefits of the Brand's 1.2-litre PureTech three-cylinder petrol engine.

With emissions as low as 105g/km thanks to exceptional efficiency and advanced stop/start engine technology, the PureTech unit is available in either 110hp or 130hp power outputs.

State-of-the-art refinement means it's a smooth-running performer that's equally at home on city streets or motorways.

Sportium models are based on Access trim, so already come with a high level of specification including DAB digital radio, air-conditioning and cruise control with a speed limiter. In addition, standard kit includes 16-inch 'Diamond' alloy wheels, driver's lumbar support, rear parking sensors, leather steering wheel, leather gearstick gaiter, plus automatic headlamps and wipers.

Sportium is only available on the 308 hatchback, and with a choice of five-speed or six-speed manual and six-speed automatic transmissions.

Prices for the range begin at £17,345 on the road.

Volkswagen's new Passat is well worth a close look at

By Ian Donaldson

You will be familiar with the law of diminishing returns, where you pay increasingly large amounts of money for ever smaller improvements.

It applies, especially, to consumer goods, from watches to mobile phones ... and cars.

Now, you might be thinking 'is this going to apply to the new VW Passat, reviewed here?'

Well, it costs about £1,000 more than the outgoing, seventh edition Passat, but you don't need to travel far to conclude it's worth every extra penny.

Prices start at £22,215 and top out for the moment at £37,035, although other models are in the pipeline, of course, which will add technology and swell the bottom line.

The VW Group (which takes in VW, Audi, Seat and Skoda, among others, remember), sells more Passats around the world than any other of its models, selling one somewhere every 29 seconds.

Profit

Which makes the new Passat a very important car indeed, especially as the boss of the VW brand said recently his bit of the group had to make more money as he watched Audi coining it in, not to speak of Porsche, where profit arrives by the turbocharged shed load.

You can just imagine the midnight oil burned to make sure nothing is left to chance when a new Passat is on the drawing board.

So, here we have a car that's smaller than before in length and height (if a little wider) but which offers more room inside for people and their luggage. To the extent that there's real leg stretching room in the rear for six-footers, while the boot varies from huge in the saloon, to ballroom proportioned in the estate and surely big enough for the largest of growing families.

Generation eight Passat also comes with engines that emit fewer nasty gases, have better fuel consumption and, depending on version and ticked option boxes, a host of clever technology.

You can, for instance, have a car that steers for you when reversing a caravan, or one that hits the brakes hard if you fail to slow for a pedestrian who steps into the road.

Or how about a Passat that brakes, accelerates and steers for you in stop-go traffic. Yes, really.

Destined

Here in the UK we'll likely buy a shade more estates than saloons and all will have diesels under their flat, wide bonnets as it's deemed not worth the bother importing petrol versions as almost nobody would buy one.

That's because nearly every Passat sold here is destined for the company car park and diesels make a compelling case for business users.

They won't be disappointed. On the right, smoothly finished, road the new Passat makes almost no noise.

It's such a quality, hushed place to go to work in that your typically time-short business user is going to arrive for the next meeting as fresh and relaxed as when he (or she) left the office two hours before.

The Passat is, thankfully, no sports car but it tackles corners with some enthusiasm while making sure the comfort of all aboard is more important than track honed reactions.

There's added comfort from the electrically adjustable seats in the SE and SE Business level cars, the latter adding satellite navigation and, combined, likely to take the bulk of UK sales.

These two cars also have adaptive cruise control and front and rear parking sensors; yet more features to ease a business person's progress through the working day.

Helping too will be the thought that there is precious little to be gained by spending more money on a car (yes, probably another German) that really offers no more than the new Passat but carries a badge with more prestige.

A clear case of diminishing returns ...

Meriva has a lot of appeal for family car buyers

By David Banner

It used to be so difficult. You wanted a vehicle with decent economy that could do the family duties, yet had something about it when you pressed the throttle pedal. Trying to square those requirements for a reasonable budget could tie even the most knowledgeable car enthusiast in knots.

These days things are a whole lot easier. If you want to know how easy, just go to a Vauxhall dealer and cajole them into lending you a Meriva 1.6 CDTi diesel. It's a car that's been steadily improved over the course of its lifetime, but replacing the old 1.7-litre diesel lump with a smaller but more modern, powerful and economical engine has given this particular Meriva real appeal for family buyers.

Developing a healthy 136PS, this Euro6-compliant motor serves up a supersized 320Nm of torque at just 2,000rpm, which lends it a hugely muscular feel. In fact this Meriva will get to 62mph in just 9.9 seconds and Vauxhall has worked at improving the quality of the six-speed manual gearshift so that changes are slicker and gear engagement more reassuring. Refinement at speed is a notable strong point, with the engine only really becoming vocal at around 4,000rpm, at which point you will have probably upshifted anyway.

Chassis dynamics have never really been a Meriva high point. The steering in the Meriva is accurate but decidedly synthetic in feel. Nevertheless, the car generally feels very substantial and reassuring to drive, with plenty of grip and safe, predictable handling. Ride quality is firm but the advantage of this is that body roll is very well controlled.

This facelifted second generation Meriva gets a revised grille, but the chrome accents that frame the front fog lamps aren't so obvious. The headlights seem to have soaked up much of the budget and now feature an 'eagle-eye' graphic. For the first time, LED daytime running lights and LED tail lights are available as an option. If you're in the mood to tick options boxes, you can also pay extra for some 18-inch alloy wheels.

Unhindered

The Meriva still differentiates itself from its many rivals via its rear-hinged back doors. The advantage of this design comes when entering and exiting the vehicle as the doors open to an angle of almost 90 degrees and you can step straight out unhindered. It also helps parents when they're strapping the kids in or fitting child car seats because there's no door in the way to manoeuvre around.

The interior itself is based around the FlexSpace seating system which allows the rear seats to fold down and slide individually.

Splitting the cabin on the plusher models is the FlexRail, a pair of metal runners between the front seats that various modular storage bins and arm-rests can be clipped to and slid along.

It's all very clever but those who have a thing for plastics quality might feel that some parts of the Meriva's cabin – especially rearwards from the front seats – show clear signs of cost-cutting. Still, that's the case with many of its rivals. It goes with the territory at this price point.

Whereas you used to have legions of trim level variations to wade through in order to find the Meriva you wanted, with this 1.6-litre CDTi, things are a whole lot more straightforward. You either pay just over £19,000 and buy the S trim or you pay just over £21,000 and bag yourself the SE specification.

The S isn't badly finished with an ESP-plus electronic stability control system, twin front airbags, an electric parking brake, a CD / MP3 CD player / stereo radio with USB and AUX-in socket, electric front windows, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, remote central deadlocking, front side airbags and door-to-door illumination.

Go for the up-spec SE version and you'll find refinements such as a panoramic glass sunroof, 17-inch alloy wheels, folding seatback trays and under-seat drawers, a trip computer, cruise control, curtain airbags, leather trim for the steering wheel and gear shifter and heating for both the seats and the wheel.

Residual values ought to be strong as well, with many buyers being attracted to the Meriva range's best and most economical powerplant.

NX 300h offers plenty but competition is high

By Matt Kimberley

The NX 300h has technology and refinement in spades but it's up against stiff competition. This is more of a case of what isn't new, because the NX is fresh off the drawing board as a little brother to the much-respected RX. If the RX 400h hybrid was the father of social-ly-acceptable SUVs, the NX 300h is a not-so-distant cousin.

The styling is as sharp as a supermodel's face, and you'll probably either love it or hate it. That's what Lexus wants, because you can't please everybody and it's better to please some people a lot than fade into the background.

The NX is no shrinking violet, as long as you avoid silver. There's a completely new colour option that layers ordinary paint over a highly compressed layer of flake to create a deeper, more lustrous shine.

Choose anything above the basic S model and you'll benefit from winter-beating four-wheel drive.

The NX is a bit of a Tardis, too, with 475 litres of boot space courtesy of a huge hidden compartment and enough rear legroom to let your kids have a game of boules.

There's also a space-saver spare wheel as standard – unique among the NX's rivals. But check this out for a practical feature: the bottle holder in the centre console has a high-friction base so you can open twist-cap drinks with one hand.

Very neat.

There's also an induction charging pad that needs no wires to charge a compatible handset. You're basically driving the future.

For the most part the NX is high quality, especially the leathers. There are one or two small bits of Toyota-spec plastic but they're easy to ignore. The touch-pad computer interface is actually more intuitive than you might initially give it credit for, too.

Refined

The drive is impressively refined, with supple suspension, decent body control and super-smooth response from the hybrid powertrain.

It's not that hard to accelerate gently away using just the electric motor, but on the other hand the outright performance is nothing Usain Bolt would get excited about. There's no two ways about it – it's pretty pedestrian.

At least the seats are worth a postcard home.

Big, perfectly supportive and highly adjustable, the only caveat is for drivers who like their seat back very upright, at which point the forward-leaning anti-whiplash headrests become a pain.

The Mark Levinson stereo – exclusive to the Premier trim grade – is worth a mention too. It has special software to identify and compensate for the lost quality of compressed digital music, and as long as the source is hooked up via a wired connection, it's brilliant.

Music played via Bluetooth doesn't benefit in the same way.

Enemies

The NX has stiff opposition from its German arch-enemies, but it's more than good enough to win fans at the mid-range Luxury price of £34,495. Classic FM-smooth hybrid drive is a big selling point and the clever on-board tech is right on the money.

It's just a shame that so much of it is reserved for this £42,995 Premier range-topper.

But who would buy one?

There are USPs for parents, business users, tech geeks and obviously people who've had enough of the usual German options.

The NX is a clever car, and a lot of people should appreciate its comfort, gadgets and generally premium feel. This deserves to be the car that boosts Lexus' UK sales to the next level.

This car summed up in a single word: Advanced.

If this car was animal: It would be a chimpanzee. It's intelligent, versatile and well put-together.

New BMW will poach buyers from opposition

By Ian Donaldson

IT doesn't look at all sporty and power goes to the 'wrong' wheels for a BMW but the latest model from the Bavarian car maker is going to cause some large ripples in the sales pond.

For BMW expects the majority buyers of a new 2 Series Active Tourer to come from other brands, and half of them to be mature empty nesters, more likely to transport their grandchildren than their own off-spring.

And these buyers won't care that the upright stance of the newcomer says 'practical' much more than sporty.

Indeed, they'll relish the space this releases for both people and luggage – and still admire the BMW badge on the bonnet.

They'll bother even less that this is the first BMW to drive through its front wheels – like almost every family car made these past many decades, but an absolute no-no in BMW terms until now.

Pushing power through the rear wheels is still best for absolute precision from the steering and making a powerful car punch through bends, but the 2 Series Active Tourer has other priorities, and manages pretty well anyway, thank you very much.

Patrolled

This is a car aimed at the heart of a quickly growing part of the car market, ignored until now by BMW but heavily patrolled for years past by Mercedes-Benz with its B-class and the posher versions of cars like the Ford C-Max and, a very recent arrival, the VW Golf SV.

All attempt a dash of style while remembering that practicality wins the day and the new BMW is a fine example of this principle.

It is barely longer than BMW's own 1 Series hatchback but a little taller than a BMW X1 SUV, resulting in a car that will fit four six-footers in comfort (five at a pinch) yet take up only modest amounts of road space.

A back seat that folds (easily from levers in the boot) in three sections and can be slid horizontally to favour luggage or rear passengers' legs, and an electrically powered tailgate as standard show BMW has taken everyday practicality to heart.

Under the bonnet there's a choice of a single petrol or diesel engine, with more arriving soon to offer more power and the option of all-wheel drive, a feature that will cost at least £29,175 to capture in a high-end only models.

In fact, the new Active Tourer starts from a much more reasonable £22,125, a figure that will strike fear into rivals with less prestigious badges.

Standard

That brings you a petrol powered 218i SE which, contrary to a very well earned reputation for mean levels of standard kit on upper crust German cars, is actually pretty well equipped.

Standard kit includes alloy wheels, DAB radio and Bluetooth, rear parking sensors, dual zone climate control, auto wipers and lights and the powered tailgate already mentioned.

Under the bonnet sits a new three-cylinder engine that promises good economy and feels plenty quick enough for the family-lugging role most Active Tourers will slip into – a drive over a variety of roads showed 40mpg on the strikingly clear dashboard that continues a BMW tradition of making things easier for the driver.

That continues with positive steering, a commanding driving position and buttons and switches that remind you of the car's quality every time you touch them.

Less impressive was a gearchange that puts first and reverse so close together that I started moving backwards at the lights until I learned to take more care and a ride that occasionally turned lumpy on some surfaces.

An automatic, diesel powered Active Tourer (from £24,205 plus £1,685 for the auto gears) pulled better still and showed 50mpg on a run and will win a lot of friends.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Lawley's shot puts Khalsa on top

Sporting Khalsa 2 Haugmond 1
SPORTING Khalsa head to the top of the West Midlands Regional League after a win against a very solid and determined Haugmond outfit.
But Khalsa had a hotly disputed handball decision to thank for the penalty which was scored by Brad Lawley to earn the points.
The first ever encounter between the two sides was dominated by the visitors in the early stages.
The pressure Haugmond applied reaped rewards on 28 minutes when Daryl Rogers and Louis Irvine linked up brilliantly and the latter was able to slot home.
Despite being under the cosh throughout the first half, Khalsa went in level when Lee Wherton headed an equaliser with seconds remaining.
The early stages of the second half were a tepid and scrappy affair, although Khalsa gained momentum slowly as the half progressed.
The deciding moment came on 78 minutes when handball was awarded against Ed Ashlin, much to the dismay of the visitors.
For the second game in a row, Lawley coolly slotted home.

80,000 are set to cheer on England
A BUMPER crowd of more than 80,000 people will watch England take on Slovenia at Wembley a week on Saturday.
Supporters responded to England's dismal summer by staying away from their first post-World Cup match against Norway in September.
A record low crowd of 40,181 turned up to watch the clash, but there was an improvement when England faced San Marino and it is understood the Football Association (FA) is expecting a big turn-out against Slovenia.
Ticket sales have risen for a number of reasons one of which is England's 100 per cent record since their World Cup exit.

Oak branch out to semi-finals after win

Cannock Chase Football League Brereton Town Cup Quarter Final
RIDGEWARE Oak progressed to the semi-finals by knocking out Chase Spartans 4-1.
Morgan Hurley scored one but the star of the show was new signing Chris Deakin who completed his hat-trick.
Brereton Lion have been removed from the Brereton Town Cup after they signed a player on the day of playing and beating Bar Sports 6-0. All players must be signed seven days before. Bar Sports are now reinstated and will play Crystal Fountain in round 2.
Premier League
Leaders Huntingdon go five points clear

Football
after beating CK77 2-1. Man of the Match Luke Farmer scored the first goal with Andy Batha going on to score the winning goal. Third placed Brereton Lion beat Harrison's 5-2 thanks to five different goal scorers: John Rob Dutton, Keegan Grant, Ash Andrews (p), Beckham Foulton and Sam Coleyshaw.
Belt Road scored two early goals and hung onto beat Dynamo Lamb 2-1.
Division One

Colliers Arms celebrated Lee Simpson's Manager of the Month award by thrashing Wheatshaf 10-2. Scott Sandland scored a hat-trick.
Third placed Nelson Inn came from behind to beat Bar Sports 3-2. Wyrley Juniors thrashed Crystal Fountain 10-0.
Division Two Cup – Round One
Cheslyn Hay knocked out Bell & Bottle 4-1. Nick Pilditch and Chad Stevens scored then Luke Aston scored by lobbing the keeper.
Hen House knocked out local rivals Trafalgar 5-0. Winding Wheel fought back from a goal down to knock out Jubilee 5-3. Bow Street knocked out Hawkins Inex 3-0.

Bridgtown Social knocked out AFC Social 4-0.
Division Three Cup – Round One
Title chasing Green Heath fought back from a goal down to Glassworks to win 2-1. Cannock Rangers knocked out Bridge F.C. 4-2. Darlaston Green knocked out AFC Essington 4-1.
Manager of the Month for October 2014: (Sponsored by Mick Woods)
Premier League Ryan Batey of Harrison's; Division One Lee Simpson of Colliers Arms; Division Two James Witherington of AFC Victoria; Division Three Mark Williams of Green Heath; Referee of the Month for October: Thomas Wall.

Burntwood's run of victories is shattered

Burntwood 14 Eccleshall 58
BURNWOOD'S unbeaten start to the league season was comprehensively ended by second placed Eccleshall.
The visitors emphasised their promotion credentials by rewriting the record books in fixtures between the sides which Burntwood has dominated in recent seasons.

Eccleshall were soon in the home 22 and five minutes of pressure were rewarded with a penalty goal.
Eccleshall tested the home defence with a series of close range attacks in the bottom corner. Burntwood held out until a clearance kick was run back at them.
A switch move created a clear pathway to the home line for the first of Eccleshall's seven converted tries.
Burntwood got back into the game courtesy of a gift try four minutes later.
The visitors tried to run the ball out of their own 22 only for the ball to run loose for skipper Ben Holt to collect and score. Peach added the conversion from in front of the posts.
Eccleshall hit back in determined fashion to catch Burntwood offside in their own 22 and the goal attempt was converted.
The hosts seized on a mistake to turn the tide of play. Holt fed Rob Jones who linked well with Aza Dunet but the centre was brought down on the visitors' 22.
Eccleshall then moved clear with two converted tries before the break. Their No.8 gave them good field position with a storming run into the home 22.

Rugby
His offload was stopped by a last ditch tackle.
However, Eccleshall scrummaged close to the home line.
Dave Yardley snaffled the ball to prevent a score but at the second attempt the visitors' pack made no mistakes to score.
Despite good work by Josh Canning at the restart his side conceded a penalty which was kicked to the clubhouse corner. The line out was caught and driven over for the converted score and a half time lead of 27-7.
Three more points were added seven minutes into the second period.
The visitors moved the ball amongst backs and forwards, inside and out, for the bonus point try scored by their impressive No.5.
Burntwood's Dunet exploited an attack for a sickly taken try. Peach converted.
From a scrum on half-way, the Eccleshall No.8 fended off three would-be tacklers in a run to the line. Eccleshall moved past the half century on 73 minutes and then the right winger scored.

Ibrahim Keita celebrates after scoring to put Wolves 2-1 ahead

Wolves U-21s 2 Blackburn U-21s 2
WOLVES Under-21s were denied by a late Blackburn equaliser in a 2-2 draw at AFC Telford.
Ibrahim Keita's double inside 60 seconds on 12 and 13 minutes overturned Devarn Green's third-minute strike but Jordan Preston clinched a point four minutes from time. Green scored after running at the defence before firing a 20-yard drive past Jonathan Flatt.
It could have been 2-0 after six minutes when Connor Mahoney produced an angled effort after a mazy run but Flatt denied him with a cracking save.
Wolves levelled when Keita netted from the penalty spot after Bradley Reid was brought down after cutting in from the right wing. And they were ahead within 60 seconds as a flowing counter-attack which eventually found Keita, who finished well across keeper Ryan Crump. Wolves went close to making it 3-1 when Connor Ronan's fine low drive was kept out by keeper Crump.
But they conceded an equaliser when the ball broke for Preston in the area and he produced a cool finish.
Wolves: Flatt; O'Hanlon, Swan, Carter (Matinyadze 67), Iorfa; Weeks, Torras, Ronan (Erdei 73); Reid, Keita, Hunte.

£19,000 boost for Saddlers

WALSALL have posted a trading profit of £19,000 - while the club's debt has also been slashed.
The Saddlers posted the after-tax profit for the financial year ending May 31, a decrease of £4,000 on the previous year.
However, the club were also able to reduce their net debt considerably, down £377,000 to £2.3m, something chairman Jeff Bonser claims makes the overall profit "more significant".
He added: "I would once again like to say a big thank you to our supporters for their continued loyalty and commitment to the club."
Walsall's AGM takes place at 9am on December 15 at the Priory Lounge in the Banks's Stadium.

Sellars score puts lid on match

Villa U-21s 2 Wolves U-21s 1
WOLVES Under-21s saw a lead evaporate as Villa's cubs came from behind to win at Burton Albion.

George Swan's 19th-minute header was cancelled out by Jack Grealish eight minutes later before Jerrell Sellars netted the 66th-minute winner.

Wolves went ahead when Swan rose to head home Connor Hunte's corner.

Grealish levelled with a shot after finishing well from just inside the area.

Villa went close again on 39 minutes when Grealish's deflected shot fell to Darren Bent, who blazed over.

Bent drove wide from an angle before he was brought down by keeper Jonathan Platt for a 58th-minute penalty.

But Platt, the current second-choice keeper to Carl Ikeme, got across well to palm away Bent's spot-kick struck high to his right.

Villa were undeterred however and scored a second when Bent set up Sellars and from an angle the winger finished well from just outside Wolves area.

Grealish almost made it 3-1 on 73 but his curling effort was saved.

GREAT Wyrley ABC treated a packed out Sports and Social Club to 11 bouts with nine of the home club filling the red corner.

Ten-year-old Ashton Wareham (Great Wyrley) got the evening under way with his fourth and final skills bout against Wednesday ABC boxer Cameron Reeves. Ashton starts competitive bouts in January when he turns 11 years of age.

Eleven-year-old Brad Jukes (Great Wyrley) had his first competitive bout just days after turning 11 but there was no celebrations for him as he dropped a unanimous decision to Priory Parks Connor Jones.

Boxing

Luke Palmer, also 11, was perpetual motion against the very game Khyal Chumber (Priory Park) in picking up a well-deserved unanimous decision, and he picked up the boxer of the night trophy from Professional Middleweight Dan Breeze.

Daniel Hodson, 13, (Great Wyrley) was considered a shade unfortunate by the crowd to drop a close decision to Miah Khan (Merridale).

Regan Williams (Great Wyrley) dropped a unanimous decision to old team mate Vinny Court (Wednesday) in a tight three rounder. The first of the two female boxers who represent Great Wyrley were up next, Sarah Wicklen, 15, just left her charge down the home stretch a bit too late and dropped a close decision to an exhausted Jazmin Griffiths (Donnington). Jamie Mansell, 17, (Great Wyrley) gave a very mature performance against experienced Connor Baker (Wednesday) at Welterweight won a unanimous point's decision.

The second Great Wyrley female boxer, Lucy Fletcher, 17, made a great start to her bout against the strong 18-year-old from Burton ABC Abbey Wright, her jab finding her opponents face time and time again, but hampered by a heavy nose bleed Wright came on strongly to gain a unanimous decision.

The last three bouts were boxed over three, three minute rounds and no headguards.

Welterweights Shaun Cooper (Walsall Wood) and Sam Evans (Wednesday) put on a classy three rounder which the busier Cooper took on a unanimous point's decision.

Focusing on bigger picture aids Dean

DEAN SMITH claims staying focused on the bigger picture helps him get through the bad times at Walsall.

The manager saw his position come under increasing scrutiny from fans after three straight defeats before the Saddlers scored a crucial win against Chesterfield.

Yet Smith insists he never felt any extra pressure going into that game, as he remains convinced the long-term future is bright.

Smith said: "I was only under as much pressure as I've felt for any other game, and I can honestly say that."

"I've never got too high when we win and I've never got too low when we lose."

"Because I think the position we are in as a football club is very good."

"The results haven't been great and the position in the league table isn't good."

"But when I look at it and I've got the likes of Jordan Cook, Romaine Sawyers, Tom Bradshaw, Anthony Forde, players like that, on long-term contracts here at this football club, the future is certainly bright."

"That's one thing that you do learn, that you have to keep planning."

Chasetown 2 Newcastle Town 1
NEWCASTLE may have won the midweek league meeting between these two sides – but it's two cup victories out of two for the Scholars.

They repeated their 2-1 FA Cup victory in this FA Trophy, first qualifying round clash. The home side started brightly against the Northern Premier League, Division One South leaders and deservedly took the lead after just 11 minutes.

Nick Wellecombe flicked the ball into the path of Richard Davies, who took a touch and casually dinked the ball over visiting goalkeeper Ryan Boot to score his second FA Trophy goal of the season.

Chasetown doubled their advantage just after the midway point in the first half when a set-piece wasn't cleared by the visitors and Leon Miles netted his first goal for the club with a thumping volley into the roof of the net that no goalkeeper in the world would have got close to.

Newcastle had to do something and shuffled the pack at half-time, bringing on two substitutes to try to change the course of the game.

The changes worked and the visitors started to gain control of the game and produce some concerted pressure.

It was no surprise when Newcastle reduced the arrears in the 70th minute.

Following a goalmouth scramble, substitute Neville Thompson – who had scored a hat-trick against Chasetown two seasons ago

Football

– again netted against the Scholars, firing home from close range.

And the visitors had a great opportunity to level the scores when Thompson fired beyond John Bateman but somehow Jon Haynes got back to clear the ball off the line when it seemed certain to be 2-2.

Chasetown goalkeeper Bateman then made a splendid finger-tip save over the crossbar to deny Jordan Cole as the visitors ended the game strongly.

The home side stood firm to weather the late storm though and it is Chasetown's name that will be in the hat for today's draw for the next round.

Chasetown: Bateman, Evans, Haynes, Johnson, Miles, Downes, Butler (Brown, 67 mins), Parsons, Wellecombe, Davies, Edwards (McDonald, 82 mins). Subs: Lees, Waite, Robinson.

Newcastle Town: Boot, Askey, Bridge, Ashman, Carter, Low (Sanders, HT), Gordon (Thompson, HT), Osbourne, Cole, Urwin, France. Subs: Moores, Dickinson.

Darlaston 5 Warstones Wanderers 2
DARLASTON extended their winning run to eight league games with a 5-2 home victory over Warstones Wanderers in West Midlands Division Two.

It was Reeves who opened the scoring for Darlaston with a deft touch past Elwell after some excellent set up play by Mark Swann. Swann also scored with Aaron Perrin getting one back for Wanderers to give Darlo a 2-1 half-time lead.

Swann added two in the second half before Sean Westley made it 5-1 and Sam Mason grabbed a late consolation for Warstones.

Darlaston opened brightly with John Reeves having two clear opportunities.

DARTS bosses are expecting record numbers for this year's Grand Slam of Darts at Wolverhampton Civic Hall, with title holder Phil Taylor in action on the opening day.

Five-time winner Taylor was placed into Group E in last night's draw and will play Bobby George's son Richie during Saturday's curtain raiser. Taylor cannot meet world champion Michael van Gerwen, the reigning world champion, until eight days later in the final of the £400,000 event.

The PDC have already sold 12,000 tickets on course to surpass any of the seven years since its inception.

Last night's draw also threw up what could be a Group G grudge rematch between James Wade and Mervyn King.

The former came from 9-2 down to win the Masters on Sunday.

The Draw:
Group A: Michael van Gerwen (1), Kim Huybrechts, Jan Dekker, Darren Webster; Group B: Alan Norris (8), Scott Waites, Terry Jenkins, Ronny Huybrechts; Group C: Adrian Lewis (6), Dave Grist, Kevin Stanger; Group D: Raymond van Barneveld (4), Robert Thornton, Vincent van der Voort, Robbie Green; Group E: Phil Taylor (2), Andy Hamilton, Christian Kist, Richie George; Group F: Peter Wright (7), Simon Whitlock, Michael Smith, Brendan Dolan; Group G: James Wade (6), Mervyn King, Tony O'Shea, Jamie Caven; Group H: Stephen Bunting (8), Gary Anderson, Dean Winstanley, Wesley Harns.

Lockmen stay in Vase chase

Blidworth 0 Willenhall 2
THE Lockmen moved into the second round of the FA Vase but they were made to battle for 90 minutes by their hosts.

Willenhall were on the attack first as a Danny Hemmings effort was blocked and then skipper Paul Holden's 30-yard effort flew just over.

Blidworth responded with a spell of possession and saw one cross-shot rattle the outside of a Willenhall post. The Lockmen threatened again just before the break, while efforts from Craig Sudlow, Tom Turner and Foster all flew off target.

With three minutes left Hemmings crossed to Sudlow who settled it for the Lockmen.

Scholars' keeper John Bateman saves

Chasetown 0 Romulus 4

CHASETOWN slumped to a huge home defeat and had goalkeeper John Bateman to thank for keeping the score down even though the Scholars did let four through.

The Roms took a twelfth minute lead when Chasetown had the ball passed around them and Luke Keen made no mistake from close range and started what turned out to be a shutout.

A thunderbolt from Lee Downes was brilliantly saved by visiting keeper Max Fondop, who did make a couple of good saves later in the game to preserve his clean sheet. But, it was the visitors who were deserving winners and two strikes from Courtney Baker-Richardson in the 70th and 78th minute gave the visitors clear daylight and really made sure their opponents were essentially out of the game.

Nathan Waite's early second half strike deflected into the grateful arms of Fondop before Davies tested the visiting keeper with an effort from range which he did well to save. Nick Wellecome forced Fondop into palming the ball away from a close range effort, but the big Roms number one was equal to anything Chasetown's front-line did throw at him.

The Scholars had a strong penalty appeal turned down at 2-0 when Nathan Waite was barged unceremoniously off the ball but the visitors made it 4-0 in the final minute when the Roms hit the crossbar.

John Bateman then made a great save but Scott Meer followed up to net at the third attempt and put the game away once and for all.

We can end top, Edwards

DAVE EDWARDS believes Wolves can finish in the top two after likening them to the 'Swansea of the Championship'.

Wolves briefly went top on Saturday after the lunch-time 0-0 draw against Birmingham before the other results left them fourth, two points off leaders Watford.

Edwards, who went closest against Blues with a chip that hit the bar, is sure Wolves can remain in contention.

Jackett's side prepare for away games to fellow contenders this week. Mick McCarthy's Ipswich tomorrow and Derby on Saturday.

"We think we have enough to be promoted in the top two," he said.

"Everyone in the dressing room believes we can do it. There isn't one team we fear or think are better than us."

"People may think there are stronger teams on paper. But team-work and the way we know our system goes a long way in this league."

"Everyone has adapted well and we should be one of the favourites."

Wolves are five unbeaten and have only lost once in 13 and Edwards feels they have the required consistency.

Eatley notches vital Hayes goal

Heath Hayes 1 Coventry Sphinx 0

HAYES' first clean sheet of the season earned them a much needed three points.

After a good midweek performance against Stoke, Hayes continued their improved form with a goal from Sean Eatley.

Stalybridge Celtic 0 Hednesford Town 5

HEDNESFORD Town produced a scintillating second half performance, thanks in part to a hat-trick from striker Steve Diggin.

The Pitmen welcomed back James Hurst and Jamey Osborne into their starting line-up as the pair returned from injury and suspension respectively.

The home side started better of the two and Hednesford captain Darren Campion made a fine block in the 10th minute to deny a goalscoring opportunity.

Two minutes later Town were caught out again as a ball through the middle of the defence found Paul Ennis but the striker was denied by goalkeeper Dan Crane.

Pushed

Hednesford appealed for a penalty in the 17th minute as Diggin was pushed to the ground inside the box, but the referee waved play on.

Crane was called into action again just after the half hour mark when he stopped Liam Dickinson's goalbound effort right on the line.

It would be the visitors who would strike first though in stoppage time at the end of the first half. A long Ben Bailey throw into Celtic penalty area wasn't dealt with and Diggin was on hand to turn and shoot home from 10 yards out.

The home team should really have equalised three minutes into the second period but somehow Anthony Malbon put the ball over the bar with the goal at his mercy. This would prove costly as in the 59th minute Town doubled their lead in somewhat dubious circumstances. A ball into the box found Glenn Walker and despite the winger looking like he was in an offside position he slotted home his second goal in as many games.

Town continued to press and they were awarded a penalty in the 79th minute as Todd Jordan brought down Diggin with the Celtic man seeing red. The striker was able to pick himself up and slot home from 12 yards out to end any chance of a Stalybridge fightback.

Five minutes later it was 4-0 when a corner into the box found Diggin and although his effort rattled the crossbar Marvin Robinson was on hand to overhead kick the ball into the net.

In the first minute of stoppage time Diggin was able to cap a memorable day with Town being awarded a second penalty and the frontman fired home into the opposite corner of the net to claim the matchball.

Hednesford return to Keys Park on Saturday as they host league leaders Barrow.

Steve Diggin scores the first goal of his hat-trick to open the floodgates for the Pitmen against Stalybridge
